IN MEMORIAM
THE OLD HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING
DESTROYED BY FIRE MAY 18, 1935

Board of Education

by Nellie Hurtgen

STUDENTS of Topeka High School are ever mindful of a deep gratitude to the Board of Education and the superintendent of schools for their loyal efforts to establish and maintain a high standard of education.

Members of the board give unselfishly and willingly of their time, serving without remuneration and often without due recognition. It was through their careful economy that a reduction in the price of food in the cafeteria was made possible this winter.

John F. Scott, a man greatly interested in the welfare of young people, is president of the board this year.

Other members of the board are Col. J. W. F. Hughes, leader in civic enterprises and for five years a member of the board; Mrs. D. L. McEachron, and active member of the board since 1919; Mrs. Julia Kiene, well-known business woman whose two daughters were graduated from Topeka High School last spring; Judge James A. McClure, prominent lawyer whose elder son will graduate from Topeka High this spring; and Col. Ralph R. Baer, the most recent member, who last August assumed the duties of Chester Woodward.

Each member of the board has extra responsibility as chairman of various standing committees. Colonel Baer is the chairman of the committee of finance and accounts. The chairman of the buildings, grounds and insurance committee is Colonel Hughes. Mrs. McEachron presides over the teachers, text books and instruction committee. The supplies committee is under Mr. Scott. Judge McClure has charge of the committee of judiciary rules and regulations. Mrs. Julia Kiene is chairman of the committee on health, physical education, and playgrounds.

Superintendent of Public Schools

A. J. Stout, first a science teacher and then the principal of Topeka High School, succeeded to the superintendency of Topeka schools in 1918. Because of his long association with the high school, Mr. Stout maintained active acquaintance with students and ing. Although now necessarily a less frequent visitor, he still cherishes a deep interest in the school.

FACULTY EXECUTIVES

by Nellie Hurtgen

OUR faculty has given us a grand year, and we want to say thanks.

A portion of our faculty underwent a change this year. Lloyd W. Chambers assumed the responsibilities of director of guidance, the position held by the late J. F. Kaho, whose death occurred during final week last spring. To lighten Mr. Chambers' burden and to help care for the increased enrollment in biology, J. W. Jones was added to the faculty in the science department.

Miss Irene De Mun took the position in the music department left vacant when Miss Evelyn Fulton resigned last spring to be married.

Miss Caroline Morse was added to the staff as a library assistant.

With the retirement of W. H. Greider, who had been a member of the faculty since 1903, P. B. Graves came to Topeka High to teach psychology, sociology and economics. During the fall term, study hall 318 was supervised by Mrs. Frank Quail, a substitute teacher, but at the opening of the spring term, 318 was assigned to Miss Thelma Haney.

When Miss Katherine Taber left to be married at the end of the fall term, Miss Mildred Huddleston arrived to fill the vacancy in girls' gym work.

Through all these changes, however, the systematic routine goes on. Each new instructor fits into the pattern of Topeka High School life, picks up the thread where his predecessor left off, and joins in the maintenance of the standard of higher education achieved in our school through work and patience.

A great deal of Topeka High School's stability and regularity is due to the unceasing work and devotion of C. H. Hepworth, vice-principal, and Miss Laura L. Ewing, dean of girls.

C. H. HEPWORTH
Vice-Principal

MR. VAN SLYCK brought Topeka High School added honor this spring in his election to the presidency of the Department of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association. Proud as students and faculty were of this recognition, they accepted it without surprise. In Mr. Van Slyck's eight years in Topeka High, both as a principal and as a man, he has created for himself warm friendships, implicit confidence, and high esteem.

A PRAYER

I ask the gods who mold the minds of men
And shape their lives, that I may have two gifts—
No more: I ask for Pride; I ask for Power.
Oh, not the might and vanity of Kings
That I may lord it for a little day;
Nor yet the purse-proud power that comes with gold:
But give, I pray, that power of brain and arm
That I may do each day with joy the work
I find at hand: and act with glad assent
My little part in God's vast scheme of things,
The Power to give the world more than I take.
The Power to be a man!

By MARCO MORROW.

J. F. KAHO had "The Power to be a man!" For twenty-eight years he worked quietly and intelligently with the boys and girls of Topeka High School. It was he who inaugurated and developed the scheme of vocational guidance which has been an important factor in the lives of thousands of Topeka's young people. He was ambitious to be of greatest service to those whose lives he touched. He always forgot himself in his desire to help others. He was a Christian gentleman, true of heart, loyal at all times, sincere and courageous in purpose. We can ill afford to lose "men of Power" such as J. F. Kaho.

THE CLASSES

-PRAC-

STUDENTS—Top to bottom:
 1. Misses Walker and Peterson.
 2. Dean Rosen—what a life!
 3. That satisfied look after lunch.
 4. Observe the technique.
 5. Relax, Spiegel.
 6. Principles of applied science.
 7. What's up—Richards and Alexander.
 8. Caught at work?
 9. It's Hackler—He'd rather lead a band.
 10. Only one thing missing from this picture—a piano.

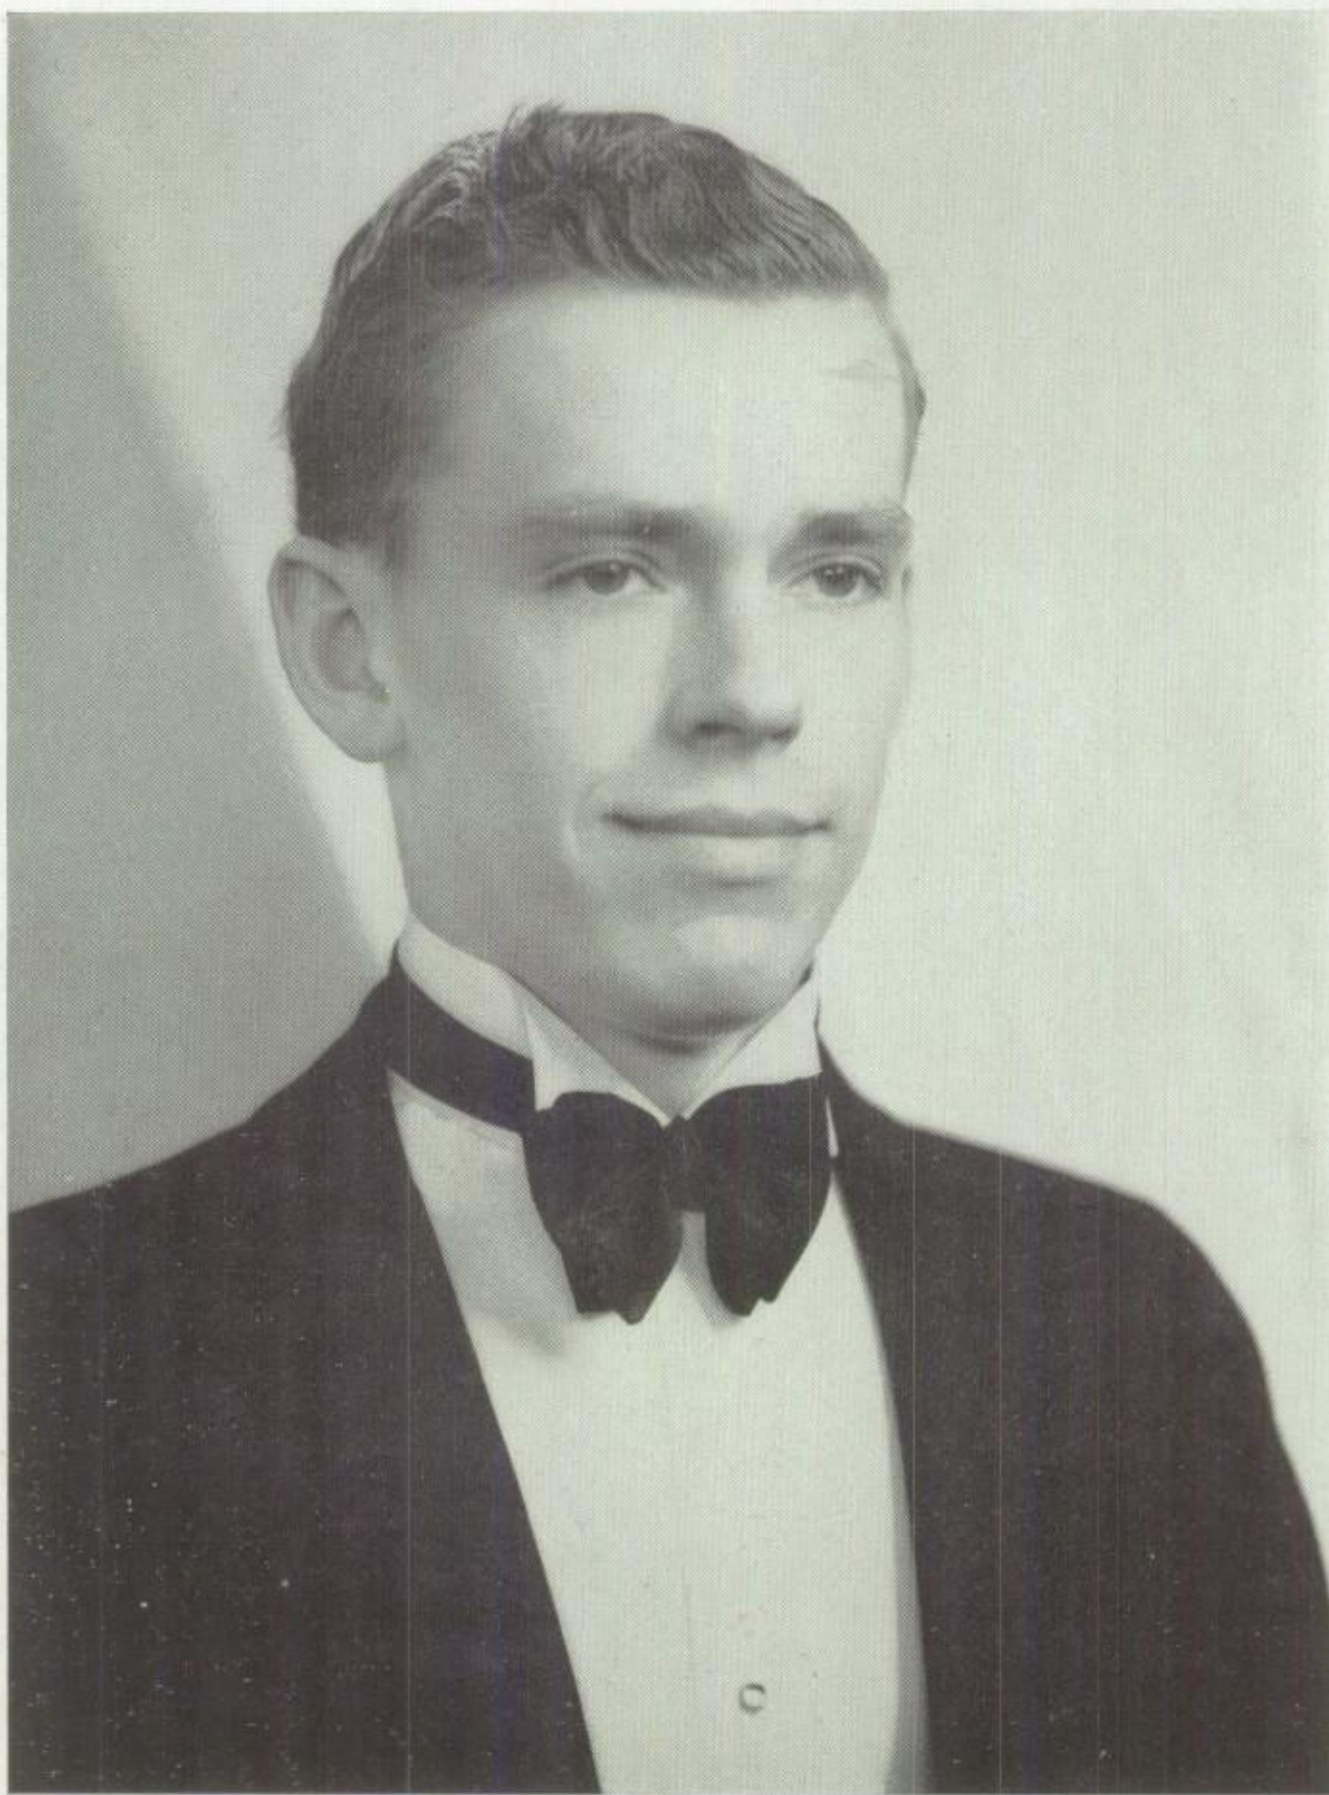

KENNETH MURROW
ALL-SCHOOL PARTY KING

WITH a characteristic, twinkling smile, Kenneth Murrow received the scepter of the King of the All-School Party and with it the wholehearted approval of the student body. This honor meant more than mere popular acclaim. It was based on the consistently fine-spirited attitude which has been "Kenny's" throughout his high school life. As vice-president of Trojan-Knights, he has evinced genuine courtesy and generous fun-loving fellowship; in dramatics, student government, and activities his name has stood for the best.

POISED and lovely on the evening of the All-School Party, Juanita Dick exemplified the queenly qualities esteemed highest by Topeka High School students; she was gracious and sincere. The same qualities are characteristic of her always—not only when she is “Queen for a night,” but in her daily associations in halls and classrooms. She leads easily and naturally. The most coveted honor in Topeka High School social life came to her by right of conquest, the conquest of genuine worth and democratic friendliness.

As a steadfast executive and friend, Carl Stanley has won the respect of fellow students by his competence and able guidance of student-managed affairs. In his exceptional scholastic work, in his presidency of his class as a sophomore, in his club associations, in his active participation in tennis and basketball, and finally in his election to the school's highest office, the presidency of the Student Council, Carl has consistently maintained the democratic standards of the school.

WITH the completion of her senior year, Betty Carswell has attained most of the things worth achieving in high school. She has won abundant honors, maintained high scholastic standing, taken part in almost every enterprise the school afforded—and has had loads of fun doing it. Betty's sparkling humor and mischievous smile make her a delightful companion; and her alert, unaffected interest in everything and everybody finds reflection in many friendships. She is one of the best-liked girls in Topeka High School.

FRANCIS BALL SENIOR FAVORITE

IN musical programs, in dramatic presentations, at game and pep meetings — wherever buoyant energy and vigor are valuable—there for three years Topeka High has grown accustomed to seeing Francis Ball, cheerleader and Trojan-Knight. An infectious smile characterizes this senior, and all-round ability marks whatever he undertakes. Not the least of his assets is a good baritone voice; the quartet in which he sings has appeared on many occasions. Francis is a “favorite” because of his ability to do many things well.

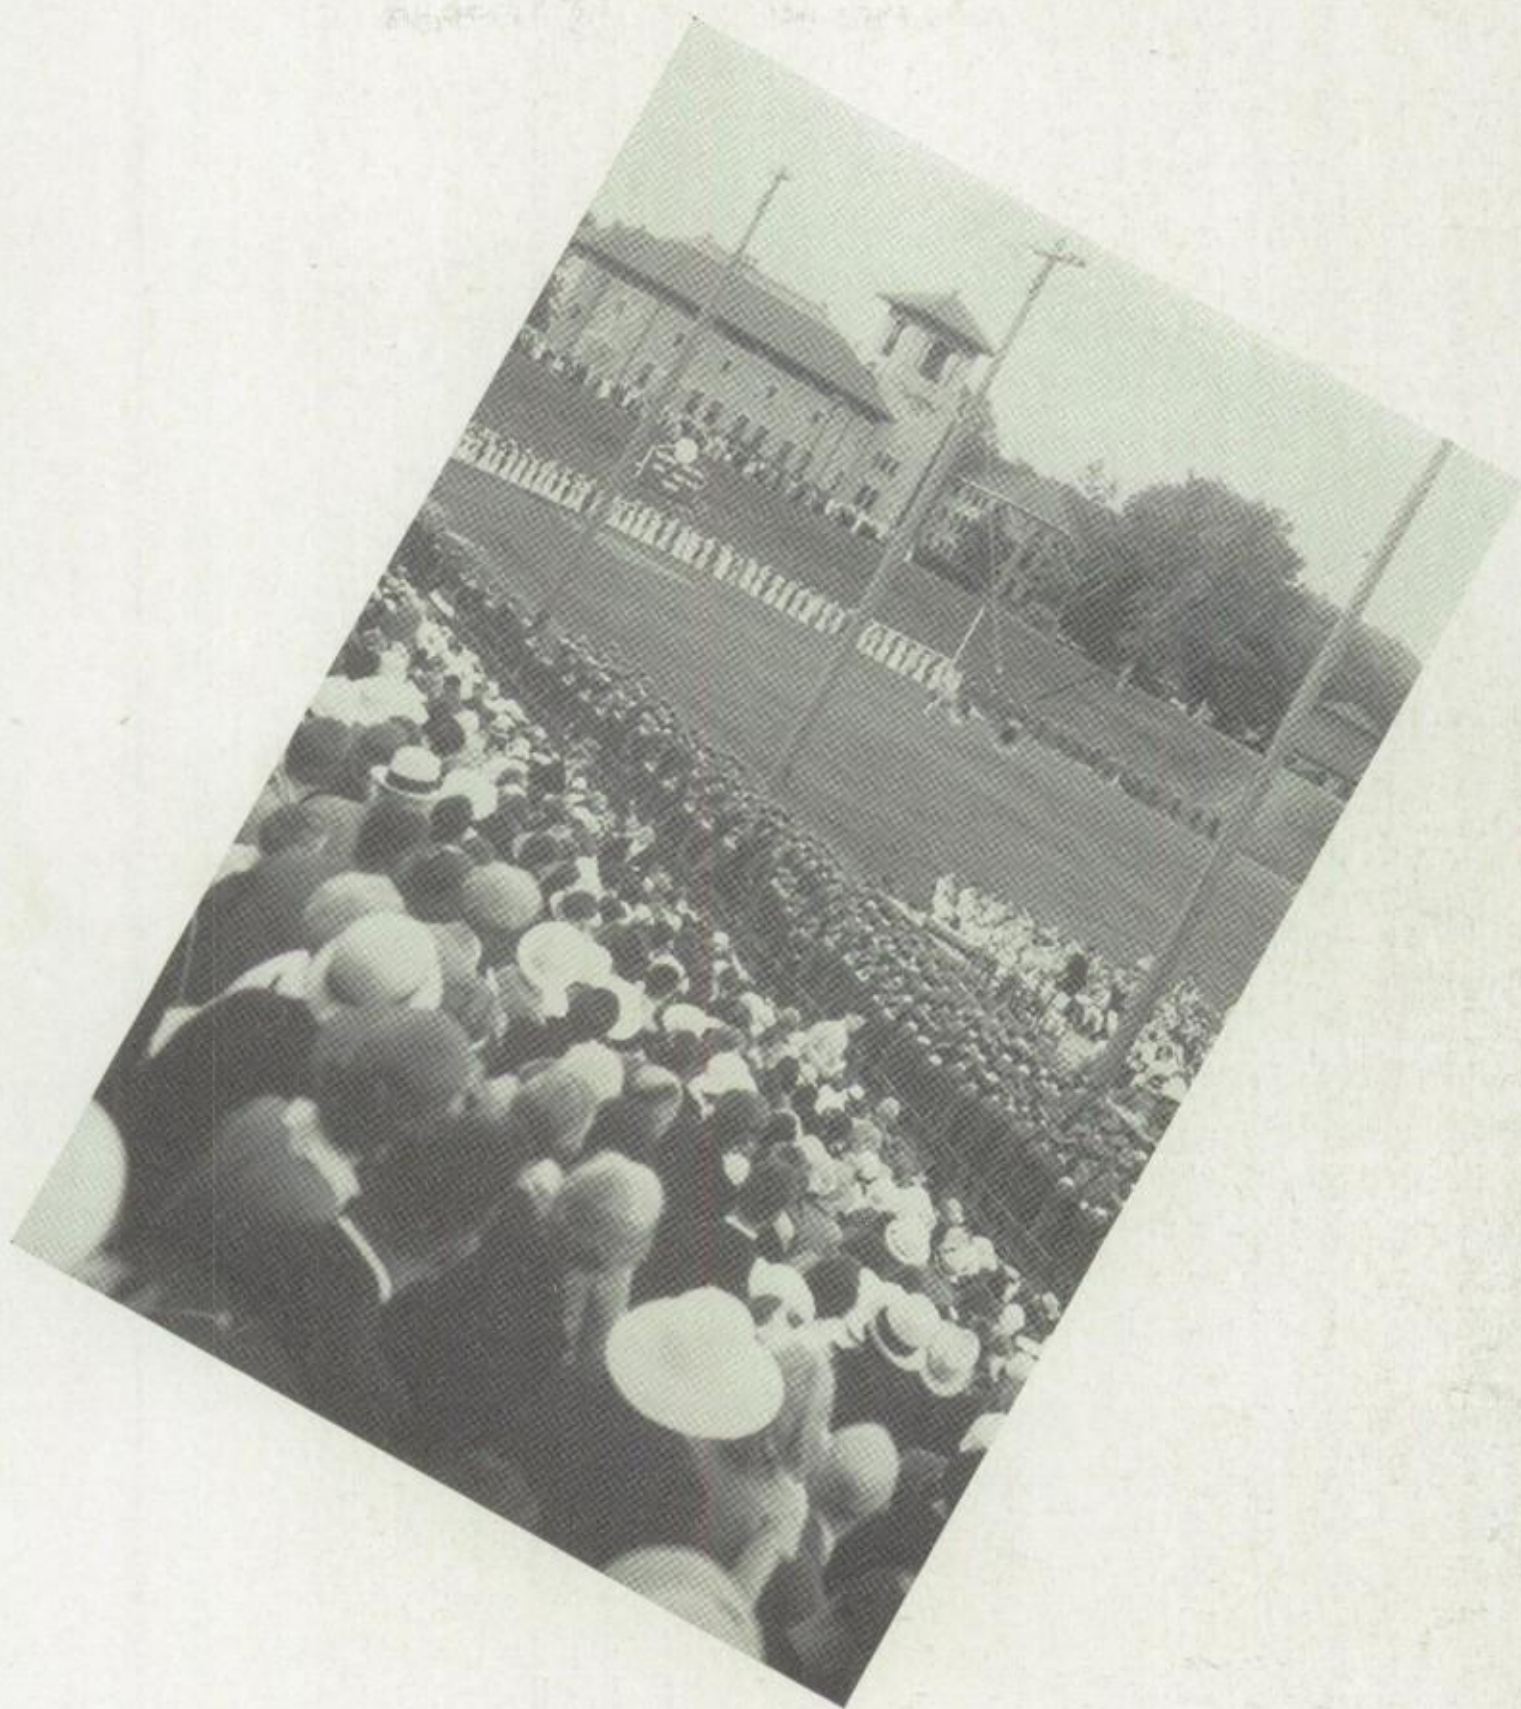

PEP, good sportsmanship, and ability are the keynotes of Dorothy Jane's success. "Dot" this year has been president of the Trojanettes, girls' pep organization, which is one of the highest honors a girl in Topeka High School can receive.
In addition, she has taken part in plays, in glee club work, and in the school publications. Despite her numerous honors, she is exceedingly modest. Expressive eyes and a sudden flashing smile make Dorothy Jane as attractive as she is capable.

DOROTHY JANE VILLEE

TEACHERS—Top to bottom:
 1. Another trophy for T. H. S.—Mayer and Van Slyck.
 2. If it's news, the World has it.
 3. You better not use this picture!
 4. Chambers doesn't get the point.
 5. He's the kurnel, suh!
 6. Oh, this heat!
 7. A last-minute talk.
 8. "Et cetera."
 9. Drop in again sometime, Mr. Snyder.
 10. Hold it, Mr. Meyers.
 11. Miss Bishop brushing up on the Great War.
 12. Recipes perhaps?
 13. Guess what I got on my birthday?

SENIOR CLASS

THE SENIOR CLASS

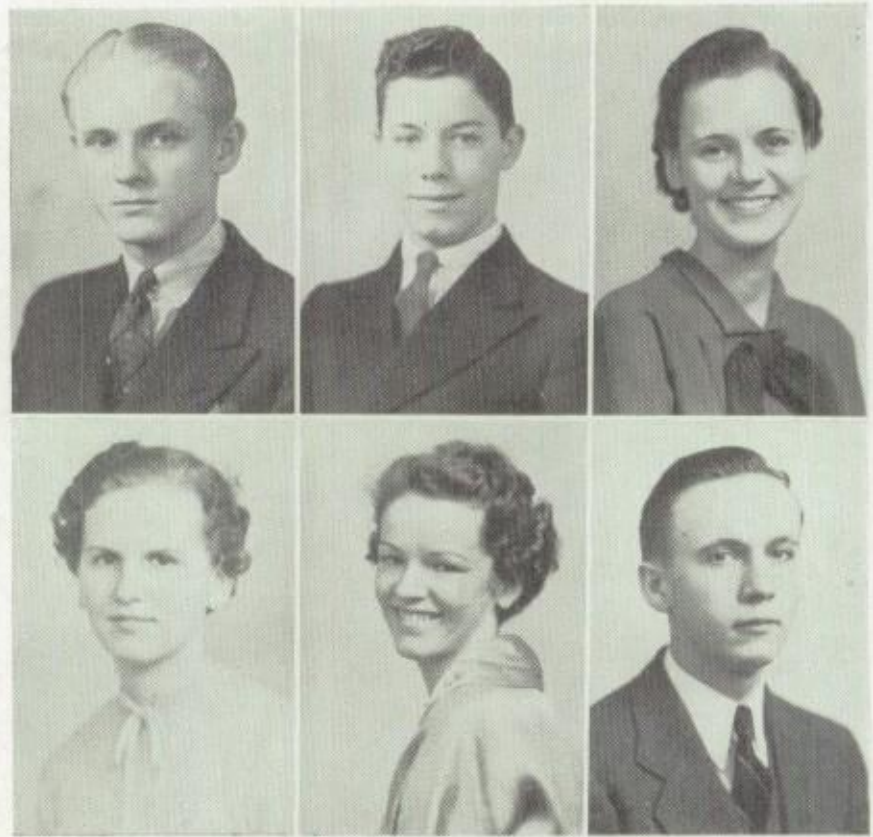

by Nancy Howell

SPRING of '36 inevitably rolls around, while we Seniors reluctantly dot the last "i's" in "finis" on the record of our high school career. It's incredible that three years of learning, activities, fun, and times when there wasn't so much fun can have whirled by in such a rush.

Why, it wasn't so very long ago that we were gawking and getting lost along with the rest of the Sophomores, or learning to defend ourselves lest we be trampled down in the halls. Even the proud feeling we had in telling visitors, "That's where I go to school" hasn't worn off yet.

It can't have been many weeks ago that we expanded our chests to full capacity so that people would see the proctor pin we had just acquired, or made plans for our first Junior-Senior Prom, or pasted frills on ploppy bonnets for the daisy chain.

The Senior Party came and went with appalling speed, but we will never forget it. Besides being the first affair of its kind ever to be held in the new building, it was pecks of fun. How the audience joined in tearfully yodeling the chorus of "A Thousand Times No," as the dramatic saga of the child of the valley was unfolded! This was just one of the many highlights of the fun-filled evening.

Senior pictures, commencement invitations, cap and gown measurements followed hot on the heels of each other, and the Seniors' days are numbered. Where has all the time gone?

We Seniors who are sophisticated because a trite phrase has decreed it so, begin to believe all the people who have told us repeatedly that our high school days are the happiest of our lives.

Much credit for the Seniors' success should be given to our sponsors—Miss Florence Drake, Miss Mary Davis, Mrs. Esther Kingman, and Lloyd W. Chambers.

AT SENIOR PARTY—1. The cast and seniors have a gay night. 2. Villain and Innocent Child of the Valley—Carswell vs. McMahill.

IN MEMORIAM

WILLIAM PEREZ

February, 1916—November, 1935

WILLIAM PEREZ, a member of the class of 1936, died November 23, 1935, as a result of injuries received when struck by an automobile.

Though quiet and unassuming, William was decidedly interested in his work and took great pride in making good grades. He was also much interested in machinery of all types and had hoped to enter a vocational field connected with mechanics upon graduation from high school.

IN RETROSPECT

by Janney Walker
by LaVerne Hackler

SOBER gray caps and gowns stand out, sharply etched against the pale gold sky of sunset. The cool green of Moore Bowl forms a perfect background for hundreds of long, fluttering dresses, in delicate pastel hues. The seniors march forward to receive their diplomas—a long, solemn procession with the thoughtful, eager faces of youth.

This was the commencement of 1935. On May 24 of last year, approximately 500 pupils received diplomas, and many of those seniors who graduated are scattered over the country, attending college or working.

Last year, schools in all parts of the United States celebrated the three-hundredth anniversary of the secondary school in America, and this celebration formed the theme of the commencement speeches. Edward Stevens, Irving Kass, Janett Miller, and Helen Beth Coats were the senior speakers.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

After a quick decision, and many frantic preparations, the seniors of last year held a party in the cafeteria on May 11. The party was exclusively for graduating seniors.

W. N. Van Slyck, principal, in announcing the honors, in an honors assembly May 17, named Betty Anderson, Galen Knowlton, and Janett Miller, as sharing first honors in scholarship for 1935. Second honors were won by Georgene Crabtree, and Edward Stevens.

Scholarships were awarded to the following: Washburn College—Grace Louise Skeen, Betty Anderson, Jane Bures, John Murrow, Ralph Burroughs, Helen Shideler, Margaret Grandeen, Galen Knowlton, Jean Swan, Martha Grandeen. Kansas University—Watkins Hall, Alice Paden, Armelda Braun. Ottawa University—Richard Wellman. Baker University—Jean Hunter, Helen Hale, Edna Hyde. Helen Clark Secretarial School—Ruth Reed. Later Betty Anderson was awarded a scholarship to the University of Chicago.

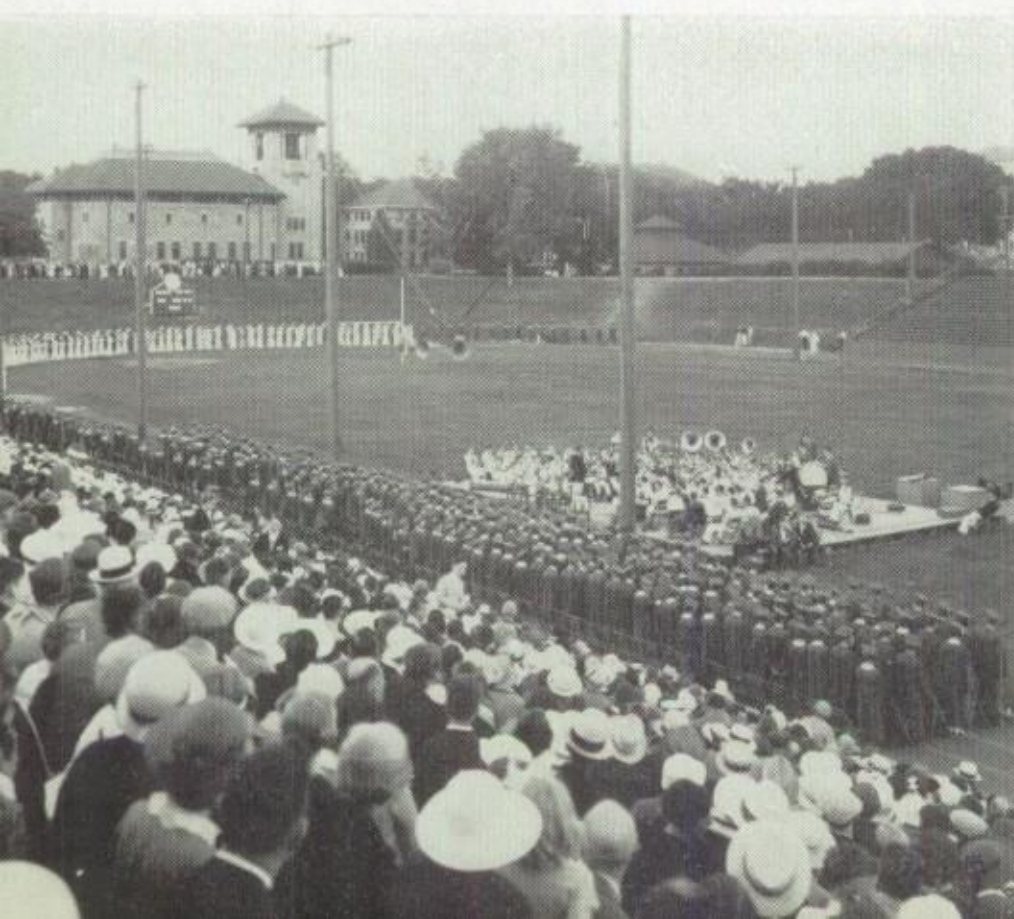

ART HONORS

National Scholastic Magazine Art Contest: Mary Louise Prout and Junior McMahill won honorable mention. Emporia State Contest: Mary Louise Prout, first in still life; Frances Gardner, fourth in still life; William Shipley, fourth in original landscape; Mary Louise Prout, second and fourth in figure possible to do with well-trained and carefully sketching, Robert Shaffer, first in lettering; Mary Louise Prout, first in applied design. Junior McMahill, second in applied design.

FORENSIC HONORS

National: Mary Ann Porterfield won first place, or national high school championship, in dramatic declamation at Kent, Ohio. Janett Miller went to the finals in extemporaneous speaking. The debate team, Ed Stevens and Irving Kass, was eliminated after winning thru eight rounds to the semi-finals of the national debate tournament.

Sunday afternoon, May 19, Rabbi Ephriam Michael Rosenzweig delivered the baccalaureate address in the high school auditorium, and Thursday, May 23, was class day. Jane Bures acted as chairman of the program committee for this.

OTHER CLASSES

THE JUNIOR CLASS

by Juanita Darling

JUNIORS forge ahead! The ever industrious Juniors have made rapid progress during their second year of high school and have come forth with many victories. During the past year the Juniors have been fulfilling the hopes they cherished while they were "Sophies." The Juniors presented one of the best plays that has been given in years, "Big Hearted Herbert," which turned out to be a "wow," as evidenced by the audience's applause.

Due to their performances in this play, Dana Roehrig, Jean Staley, June Crook, David Stevens, Dean Rosen, and Frank Carlson were all made members of National Thespians. Six other Juniors, Lorraine Barnett, Margaret Shroyer, Elsie Mae Swecker, Ruth Spencer, Leslie Thompson, and Bob Arnold were given National Forensic League memberships, and have made a good debate record.

At the annual election last fall, the Juniors chose capable class officers who have done well in performing their duties. Kenneth Lewis, the class president, has held his position well and contributed much to the success of the class, as also have the other officers—vice-president, Harold Haney; secretary, Lorraine Barnett; the two Student Council representatives, Patsy Strawn and Ralph Keller; election commissioner, Byron Carlson; election clerk, Betty Down; and social chairman, Mary Louise Alexander.

The ever sensational Junior-Senior "prom" went over in a big way this year, due to the splendid cooperation of all the Juniors, their officers, and sponsors. The theme, that of a hilarious circus, kept the audience in stitches throughout the entire program, and the dancing afterwards in the cafeteria, topped off a perfect evening for everyone.

JUNIOR SPECIALTIES—1. The Junior play, remember? 2. Last year's daisy chain. What will it look like this year?

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

by Charlotte Ellis

TOOT! Toot! Here comes the Sophomore-Limited! Look out, everybody! Get off the tracks! Here she comes, puffing and blowing, well on her way into the station!

Last September 10, the Limited pulled out from Vacation on a 36-week trip through Topeka High with 917 passengers answering the summons of "All aboard!" Others have been picked up at stations along the line.

In order that the trip should have every advantage and the best of management, the passengers elected the following officers, October 15: Tom Lillard, president; Francis Domingo, vice-president; Betty Clarke, secretary-treasurer; Rosemary Mauzey, chairman social committee; Jane Carson and Jack Gessell, Student Council representatives.

SOPHOMORE PARTY—1. "Oh if I had the Wings of an Angel!" 2. As the crowd looked on with delight.

Under the direction of P. B. Graves, faculty sponsor, the passengers were switched onto a side trip which led through a famous penitentiary on Alcatraz Island.

Here the first Sophomore party of Topeka High was staged, passengers mingling with the striped suits of convicts. Preceding the dancing, a floor show entertained the crowd; some of the outstanding features were Ray Whitlow's tap dance, Sara Beth King's solo, and the tap chorus of Reese Lynn Saffell, Jane Carson, Betty Clarke, Sarah Firestone, Betty Davis, and Betty Carson. Everyone felt proud that this group should be the first to enjoy a Sophomore-Limited Party.

On March 24, during another side trip, several athletic members of the tour obtained more Sophomore honors by scoring first in the inter-class track meet.

Toot toot! She's pulling out! It's not much farther to the terminal station where she's due May 29.

Homerooms Scene of Busy Activity

by Nancy Howell

HOMEROOMS—they're the institutions that replaced bread as the staff of high school life. We spent only a small part of our school day there, but lots went on.

We had a homeroom representative, too. He was distinguished as the guardian of all good activity ticket holders; he escorted us to the Sunlights when our turn came, and spoke for us at the Representative Council.

It was in our homerooms that we were besieged by every variety of ticket sellers, in hordes. There speculation was great as we voted on our choice for the All-School party king and queen.

Didn't it make us glow inside, when, around Thanksgiving or Christmas, many of us adopted families and brought contributions for them?

It sounded queer, later on, when the daily bulletin announced that Miss Frizell would play Mr. Snyder on the east court after school, but by the time Mr. Winter's players became intramural basketball champions we were entirely accustomed to it.

Having our picture for the Sunflower taken along with the rest of our beaming group made us think of annuals. They were especially attractive, after the prize, copies of "Sixty-two Years of History," was offered for the homeroom with a 95 per cent subscription. Miss Calvert's and Miss Frizell's groups walked off with that.

Spring, and enrollment for next fall begins! The endless cycle starts again, but who would dispense with homerooms for anything?

SPORTS

FOOTBALL — From top to bottom: 1. It's up to some—to warm the bench. 2. Let'er rip, Trojans. 3. You guys act like old maids. 4. Yummy yum, those hot dogs! 5. Give 'em good old number 3. 6. Get in there and fight next half. 7. How many yards to go? 8. What'll it be. 9. What is it—a nickel? 10. The three

WITH only five lettermen to start the 1935 season, Coach E. B. Weaver's team came through as co-winners of the Eastern Kansas conference. Although the Topeka team was somewhat inconsistent, strong and powerful one week and milder the next, it ended the season by winning its fourth game out of eight. The 1935 additions to the team proved as valuable as the five returning veterans. This nucleus consisted of Stanley Orr, tackle; Don Smith, guard; Bill Wylie, end; Harold Gladfelter, and Russell Anderson, backs.

Co-captains of the team were chosen at the end of the season. Because of the excellent qualities of all the players, it was difficult to pick any outstanding one. Bob Schick and Harold Gladfelter were given this honor. Bob's consistent leadership and especially his indispensable punting show him to have been a real power. Harold, because of his speedy runs from halfback position, was a marked man.

Topeka 19, Parsons 6

September 28: Topeka began its 1935 football season with a smashing victory. Led by Anderson, Schick, and Slawson, Topeka rallied after a bad first half, and sent the Parsons team home with a stinging defeat.

Topeka 0, Lawrence 6

October 4: Lawrence high nosed out To-

Trojan Team Ties

by Houston Smith

peka by a lone touchdown in the Trojans' first conference game. Fumbles proved costly in this game for both teams. Schick led the Topeka offensive.

Wichita North 13, Topeka 7

October 12: Playing in a heavy wind, Topeka lost to the Wichita North Indians 13 to 7. The powerful Indians had not been defeated for 19 games. The Trojans did not break the spell.

St. Joe Central 6, Topeka 0

October 19: Losing its third consecutive game, Topeka fell before the onslaught of St. Joe's driving offensive. Spiegel, Topeka end, was the mainstay of the Trojan team.

Topeka 16, Ottawa 0

October 25: Topeka snapped out of its losing streak to trounce Ottawa 16 to 0. Flashy end runs by Gladfelter featured the game. The Topeka line played a fast-charging game.

Topeka 18, Emporia 0

October 31: Entering the game decidedly the underdog, Topeka upset the undefeated Emporia Spartans by a heavy score. The Kaul-Gladfelter combination of the Trojans proved too much for the Emporia tacklers.

Wichita East 13, Topeka 0

November 9: A powerful Wichita East team conquered the Black and Gold by two touchdowns. Kaul was the outstanding player for the Topeka team.

Wyandotte Game

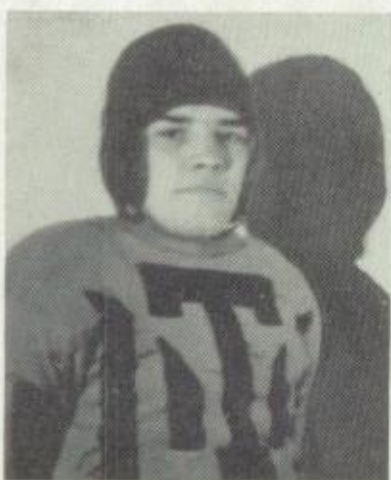

The Wyandotte game scheduled in Kansas City was canceled because of inclement weather.

Manhattan 7, Topeka 14

November 22: Topeka emerged victorious in the last game of the year. This game cinched a tie for first place in the Eastern Kansas conference.

The 1935 season was not an all-victorious one, but it was fairly successful.

For Conference Championship

BOB SCHICK, Halfback: Short and stocky and faster than greased lightning, Bob was good through the line and on end runs. Chosen by the team as the most valuable player, he received the ball used in the last game. He was also elected co-captain.

HAROLD GLADFELTER, Halfback: Harold bore the brunt of many jokes because he took them so cheerfully. He was the life of the trips. Exceptionally speedy, he reeled off many gains around end. It was Harold's second letter, as he was elected co-captain.

BILL SCHAEFER, Halfback: Although only a sophomore, Bill rapidly made a place for himself on the team. His strong point was defense. A runner who came anywhere near Bill was due for a sudden halt. Bill's tackles were tooth-jarring and bone rattling.

GARLAND CRAWFORD, Substitute tackle: A big boy with plenty of nerve, Garland proved a dependable substitute at tackle. Although he said he got splinters sitting on the bench, the splinters never seemed to bother him when he had a chance to play.

DON SMITH, Tackle: Nearly as wide as he was tall, Don was a stationary object on the defense, but a battering ram on offense. He loved to pile up the center of the line. Unassuming as he looked, opponents were likely to underestimate his aggressiveness.

CHARLES SPIEGEL, End: "Blondy" was proud of the touchdown he made in Ottawa. By skillful maneuvering, he managed to get into the open without a person within "ninety miles." He is one of a first class pair of ends to return next year.

BILL SLAWSON, Halfback: Although rather erratic at times, Bill was perhaps the most conscientious player on the squad. Each misplay made him play all the harder. Always a hard runner, Bill showed much speed on many long end runs.

BILL WYLLIE, End: The fellow with the infectious laugh. Bill's speed enabled him to get down under punts quickly and more than once he spilled the safety in his tracks. He was famous for gains on the short pass over the center of the line.

KAUL—Guard

TOWLER—End

HOLSTRUM—End

ORR—Tackle

PIERCE—Center

LANDES—Guard

ANDERSON—Quarter

OWEN—Manager

DON KAUL, Guard: Don started the season in the backfield, but because of his size, speed, and aggressive blocking was changed to running guard. The opposing backs learned to fear him. His most brilliant feat was intercepting a pass and running for a touchdown.

DON PIERCE, Center: A quick and sure passer, Don was an asset to the center of the line. He put the ball where it was supposed to be at the time it was to be there. His chief personal trait was falling into every mud puddle.

IVAN TOWLER, End: "Lefty" was always running into trouble. His face was scarred with wounds gotten on and off the football field. He hated to run signals and wanted scrimmage all the time. The hotter the fight, the better Lefty liked it.

JACK LANDES, Guard: One of the hardest, steadiest players on the team was Jack. A hard charger and fierce blocker, Jack cleared the way for many brilliant runs. A stonewall on defense and a juggernaut on offense, he was the mainstay of the center of the line.

NORRIS HOLSTRUM, End: Norris also will return next year. His forte was defense, but he was just as willing to stop a runner by his arm or his jersey as by his legs. Norris could also snag passes and made several long gains.

RUSSELL ANDERSON, Quarterback: "Russ, the wire haired terrier," lettered for the second time and still has another year. Changed early from full to quarter, he showed great proficiency as a signal caller. He accounted for many Trojan gains by his accurate and his speedy passes.

STANLEY ORR, Tackle: "Stan" was the veteran on the squad. It was his third year, and his abundant experience was of great benefit. Big and brawny, but fast despite his size, he made a powerful tackle on both the offense and defense.

KIRK OWEN, Student manager: All the dirty work was left to Kirk, the student manager. He had the care of all equipment, and some job it was. Cleaning up after a bunch of dirty football players is no child's play.

NELSON BRILL, Tackle: Short and stocky, "Nellie" showed up well at the tackle post, his aggressiveness making up for lack of weight. Nelson could get by with more with the coaches. Perhaps it was because he was a butcher.

RUSSELL MALLORY, Halfback: "Russ" didn't fly off the handle often, but when he did—opposition beware! He loved to batter the center of the line and send the man mountains of the opponents rolling. He threw a football like a baseball and nearly as far.

JIM HOLLOWAY, Tackle: The man with the trusty toe—that was Jim, heavyweight of the team. Jim's long, high kick-offs were a great advantage. Jim was a standout at tackle and always in the midst of the battle.

FRANK BATES, End: "School-boy" Bates as end was another reserve who made the regulars work in order to keep their jobs. He was one of the first out for practice each day and, as a result, often had to carry the helmets.

JACK SHEETZ, Fullback: Jack started the season as a guard, but when the team needed another fullback, Jack got the job. By the last game he had become a ground gainer through the center of the line. He should prove a powerhouse next fall.

TOM FROST, Full and Quarter: Although not a starting player, Tom was a threat to the starters. He made the regulars hustle to keep their jobs. Playing both full and quarter, he had two chances of getting into the game. He was a good punter.

HAROLD THOLL, Tackle: Harold always regretted the day he told the fellows he came from Lecompton. From that time on, he was known as the "Lecompton Flash." The breaking of his ankle in a practice scrimmage cost Harold many quarters. His loss was keenly felt.

LUTHER BARRETT, Center: Luther was an integral part of the Trojan line. He spent a great deal of time in the opponent's backfield, always on hand to bat down a pass in and around his center position. He had power and weight where it was needed.

CHAMPIONS in spirit, second in victories. The Trojans tied for second place in the Easter Kansas conference for the 1935-36 season. With eight games won and eight lost the season record came to .500 percent. In the state regional tournament Topeka high went to the finals and was halted by Emporia. Topeka was, however, invited to participate in the state tournament.

Starting the season with a loss to an experienced Alumni team, the Trojans came back the next two games, defeating Parsons and Ottawa. Emporia and Salina took the next two encounters. The following week Topeka nosed out St. Joe Central.

Topeka gave the Manhattan Wildcats a tough battle before losing 32 to 29, and in the next game failed to break the Wyandotte jinx. The Trojans then tasted victory in two closely contested battles with Ottawa and Kansas City Manual.

The league leaders from Lawrence kept their pace and showered the Trojans with too many baskets; but Topeka redeemed herself the next week and beat Emporia. In another unsuccessful game with Wyandotte, Norris Holstrum suffered an injured shoulder which kept him out for the remainder of the season.

Topeka closed the regular schedule with revenge victories over Salina and Manhattan.

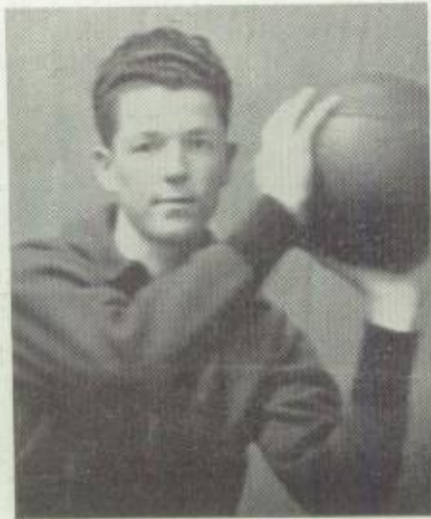

As a climax to the season Topeka was host to the Kansas State Basketball Tournament for the fourth consecutive year.

HAROLD GLADFELTER, Forward, Guard: Harold started the season at forward, but later was shifted to guard. One of the fastest men on the floor, he was a constant threat to the other team. Harold earned two letters in basketball. He was lost to the team by graduation at mid-year.

BILL MONTGOMERY, Guard: Bill was not discovered until mid-season. This black, curly-headed guard excelled in defensive play. He was the star utility man and was always there when he was needed. This was Bill's first letter.

JACK HORACEK, Forward: Jack entered school at mid-term and soon won a first team position. His specialty was intercepting passes and finding the basket from all angles. At the regional tournament at Osage City and in the state tournament, Jack was an important cog in the Topeka machine. He is only a junior and will be heard from next year.

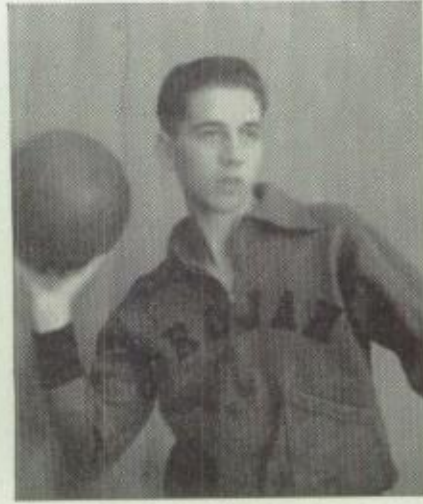

BOB SCHICK, Forward, Guard: Bobby Schick was the sparkplug of the Topeka team. When play slowed up, Bob got in and started things. He was the fastest man on the team. The opponents didn't know quite what to think when they saw Bob diving from all directions, intercepting the ball, and shooting down the floor for a basket.

KIRK OWEN, Guard: Kirk, the mainstay of the Trojan defense, had the duties of jumping at center and guarding the biggest man on the opponent's team. He possessed a keen eye to swish long shots. Kirk earned two basketball letters and will be deeply missed by next year's team. He was named honorary captain for the year.

MARSHALL ROBINSON, Forward: The words "Marsh" and "swish" have a lot in common. The first, the nick name of one of Topeka high's star performers, and the second, the sound made when shots by Marshall go through the basket. He was high point man on the Topeka team and rated second in the Eastern Kansas league. This is his second letter.

EARL NAYLOR, Center: Earl Naylor played center and always gave his taller opponents plenty of trouble. His ability was discovered only this year. He played his best game at St. Joe, when he was instrumental in Topeka's 30 to 31 victory. Earl is only a junior and will be a Trojan regular next year.

NORRIS HOLSTRUM, Center, Forward: When Norris was injured in the Wyandotte game, the Topeka team discovered just how much it depended on his fast floor play and keen eye for the basket. He played both center and forward positions on the team. Norris is the second of the Holstroms to star for Topeka High.

GOLF and TENNIS

by Bob Chilson

WEARERS of the Black and Gold swept every match and tournament in 1935 with the exception of the singles in the Invitation tournament at St. Joseph.

The Trojans, coached by W. J. Barnett, annexed five dual matches defeating Wyandotte, 7-0; Leavenworth, 7-0; Immaculata, 5-2; Wichita East, 11-2; and Emporia, 3-0.

In the invitational tournament at St. Joe, April 5, Christner won the singles and Thornburrow and Reynolds the doubles to bring the Conference championship to Topeka High in the conference meet at Topeka in May.

Men of Troy again were victorious in the Regional meet at Manhattan the following week. Reynolds and Stanley finished one, two in the singles, and Christner and Thornburrow won the doubles.

Following the Regional meet, Christner and Thornburrow won the state doubles championship at Wichita.

During the Winfield Invitation Tournament John Christner hit his stride and won the singles.

GOLF—

H. D. Shotwell's proteges finished the 1935 season without losing a single match!

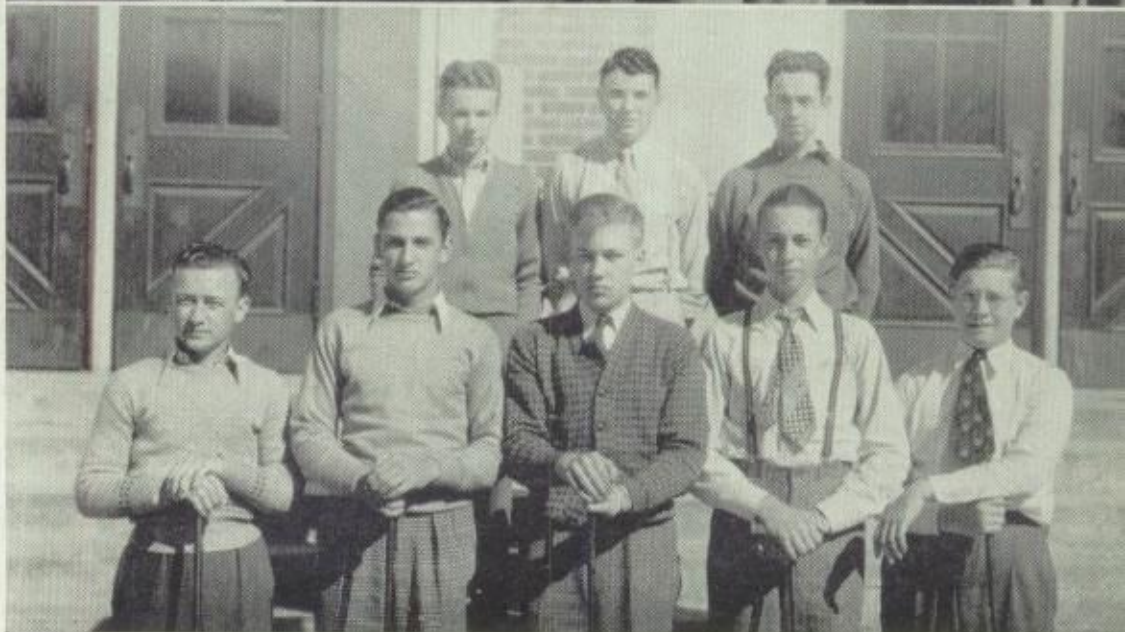

March 30—The Trojans tied with Washburn.

April 6—The team visited Kansas City to defeat Wyandotte, Rosedale, and Argentine. The Topeka team made up of Richard Wylie, Jack Wormington, Virgil Brunkow, and Charles Ash was first with 322.

April 12—On the Lawrence course the Topekans met Rosedale, Argentine, Lawrence, and Emporia. Richard Wylie was medalist and the winning two-man team included Wylie and Wormington.

April 19—In this match held in Topeka at White Lakes, Topeka took first with Central second.

April 25-26—Making the trip to Baldwin

EDITOR'S NOTE: Because the 1935 tennis and golf seasons were not finished until late in the spring semester of last year the results were not given in the 1935 Sunflower. The current season will not be finished until late in May.

to meet Argentine, Rosedale, Lawrence, Ottawa, Paola, Springfield, Mo., and Wyandotte, the Topekans proved the victors of the meet, Wormington defeating Wylie, to take first.

May 4—In this conference match held at the capital city; Topeka, Manhattan, Emporia, Lawrence, and Ottawa competed. The teams finished in similar order.

May 11—In the Wichita Invitational meet Jack Wylie was medalist with the low score of the season on the Wichita course. The results were: Topeka, first; Wichita East, second; Wellington, third; Wichita North, fourth; El Dorado, fifth; and Winfield, sixth.

May 16-17 — Wichita State Tournament.

Jack Wylie of Topeka was individual champion with 152; and the winning team from Topeka was composed of the two brothers, Jack and Richard Wylie.

"THIS track season has been more successful than any year since I have been here" states Coach Fred R. Powers. "The success is not in the victories won, but in the interest the sophomores and juniors have shown. Next year Topeka should rank at the top of track competition."

Topeka High fall track competition was limited to three dual relays with Emporia and Ottawa. Topeka broke even in two contests with Emporia and defeated Ottawa in a close sprint medley at Ottawa. The Topeka relay team consisted of Lester Stovall, veteran Trojan distance star, Howard Hosford, Jack Perkins, and Harry Carper.

The underclass trackmen proved their strength in the annual inter-class track meet held early in the spring. The sophomores scored 56 points to 39 for the juniors and 26 for the seniors. These sophomores and Juniors should win track honors for Topeka High next year.

In the meet, Ted Scott, sophomore flash, took first place in the 100-yard dash and 220-yard dash. The discus and shot put events were carried away by Jim Holloway, Trojan football giant, for the juniors. Meade, Frost, and Denman were the senior mainstays.

The Topeka trackmen finished victorious in their first dual meet of the spring season, defeating Topeka Catholic High 78 to 42. Topeka captured all but three first places.

George Hersh, lanky Trojan star, won the high hurdles and tied for first place in the high jump. Schnacke, also a Trojan, won the pole vault, vaulting 9 ft. 6 in. He shared first place in the high jump with Hersh. Scott, Topeka sophomore, was victorious in both dashes.

On April 4, Topeka, in the second dual meet of the season, defeated Emporia at Moore bowl. The Spartans were on the short end of a 80 to 52 score. Ted Scott showed his supremacy in the dash events, taking both the 100 and the 220. He was timed at 10.4 seconds in the century.

Richard Schnacke garnered 12 points for Topeka by winning first in the pole vault and high jump and placing second in the high hurdles. The Topeka mile relay team composed of Hill, Reim, Morgan, and Smith were clocked at 4:02.5 to win that event. This team consists of three juniors and one sophomore.

Wyandotte High competition proved disastrous for the Trojan team at Moore bowl April 10. The Bulldogs captured 15 out of 16 events. Stovall kept the match from being a complete walk-away for Kansas City by winning the half-mile. Notwithstanding this heavy defeat, Topeka showed much improvement over previous meets.

At Ottawa, April 14, Topeka lost 84½ to 47½. The strong Ottawa team was weak only in the dashes. Ted Scott and Wulfschle took first and second respectively in both the 100 and 220. Schnacke and Appleby tied for first in the pole vault and Schnacke tied with three others in the high jump.

Coach Powers took mostly underclassmen to the Kansas Relays, April 17, for experience. Schnacke, entered in the high jump, was the only Trojan who placed. Before the track season is completed the team will have competed in the Baker relays, the Eastern Kansas conference meet, and the regional and state meets.

Girls Go Athletic

by Corrine Hobbs

SHOULD girls participate in sports? This question has been asked for many years and the evidence of girls' sports in Topeka High School should be proof that the activity is desirable.

Tournaments in every sport have gained success in the girls' gym classes this year. A basketball tournament which was won by a eral weeks. Speedball, baseball, and tennis followed in their season.

Miss Milicent Hosmer has sponsored an advanced lecture course which held regular meetings where the girls learned the correct method of umpiring and tournament management.

Tournament play has not been the only interest of the girls. A dance club sponsored by Miss Katherine Taber in the fall term provided entertainment for many of the school functions and outside programs. When Miss Taber became Mrs. Lorin Barnett and Miss Mildred Huddleston of Fulton, Kentucky, became the new gym teacher, the girls developed an interest in calisthenics, posture experimentation and correct walking.

Jean Marshall, who has played a prominent part in school athletics and in the music department, was president of G. A. A.

Many of the girls became prominent in city athletics. Last year more than 50 girls played on teams in the city league girls' baseball. Approximately 30 girls entered the city open tennis tournament. In swimming Topeka high school girls were represented in the final A. A. U. meet, in Topeka.

Ruth Fairbank, one of the foremost girl forwards in this part of the country, placed on the Second Squad All-American team in 1935.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT PLAYS BIG PART

STUDENTS of Topeka High School are given the opportunity of sharing in the responsibilities of governing the school by serving on the Student Council, the Proctor System, and the Representative Council, all of which have proved efficient during the past year.

The Student Council consists of two representatives from each class, elected for a term of one year. The elected members then choose two alternate members from each class who serve for nine weeks. Ex-officio members of the council include the chairmen of the Proctor System and the Representative Council, the Secretary of the Point System, and the editor of The World.

Officers are: President, Carl Stanley; Vice-President, Juanita Dick; Secretary-Treasurer, James McClure.

The purposes of the council, as stated in the constitution of the school, are: "To foster a sentiment for law and order in the school; to provide opportunity for student co-operation in the internal government of the school; to provide worthy student activities, and to promote the general welfare of the school."

CARL STANLEY
President of the Student Council

In fulfilling these purposes, the Student Council, under the able guidance of W. N. Van Slyck, principal, and Carl Stanley as president, has promoted such activities as the All-School Party, which 1500 students attended, and several varsities following the basketball games.

Carl Stanley, James McClure, and Ralph Keller, sophomore member of the Student Council attended the convention of the Missouri Valley Confederation of Student Councils held in Council Bluffs, Iowa, in October where school problems were discussed. Ralph Keller was elected secretary of the Confederation.

Meetings of the council have been held every two weeks during the activity period and at other times that the principal or president deemed it necessary.

ELECTED FROM HOME ROOMS

The Representative Council was made up of a representative from each home room, elected by members of that group. Its members acted as spokesmen for the principal in explaining new regulations and projects to the home rooms and also presented student opinions to the principal on various matters pertaining to school welfare.

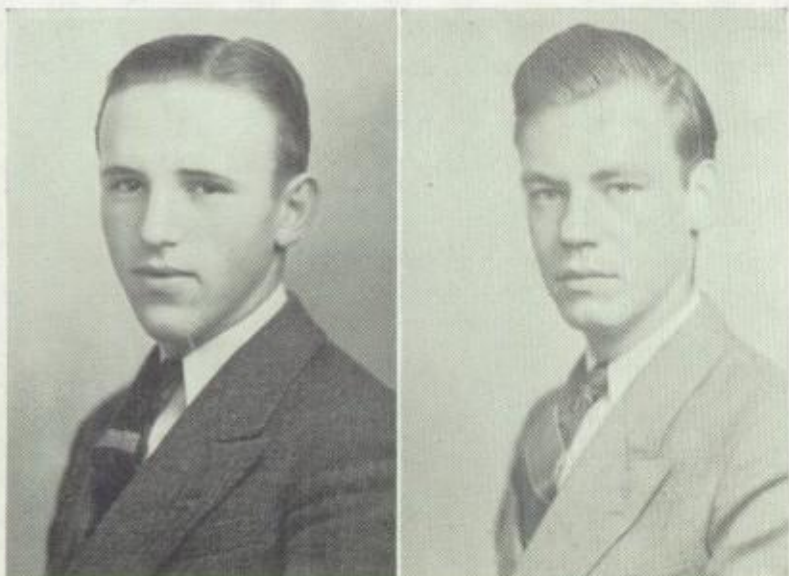

Home room representatives also had charge of the sale of activity tickets, and during the year they assisted in the ticket sale and advertising of other school enterprises.

During the past year, Carter Butler served as president of the Representative Council while W. N. Van Slyck, principal, sponsored it.

PROCTOR SYSTEM HONORARY

The Proctor System provides a method whereby students with grades above average and who are outstanding in some other phase of school activities are selected by proctor captains to welcome and direct visitors to the various parts of the building, to aid other students in finding class rooms, to assist in the office, inspect passes, help maintain order in the halls and the cafeteria, and any special duties assigned for special posts.

Third row: Jerry Whittlesey, Delbert Byler, Kenneth Murrow, Norman Rimes, Clif Stratton, Jack Gessell.

The chairman of the proctor system, who is appointed by the principal, chooses proctor captains for each class period and the activity period. These captains then select from the study halls a group of proctors to be responsible for certain posts located thru-out the building.

To maintain their positions, the proctors must keep up a good grade standing.

D. A. Kirchner headed the Proctor System this year. He was assisted by Malcolm Gray, Frank Norton, Willard Van Slyck, Jr., Lawrence Walters, and Carter Butler who acted as proctor captains of class hours while Bob Reynolds acted as proctor captain during the activity period.

Election Stirs School

by Harriet Stephens

DURING the two weeks in which the books were open for the student election last fall, the registration table in the main entrance was even more popular than the candy counter in the cafeteria; 1857 students registered. There were no uncontested offices.

For the primary 1474 students trekked to the polls nominated Carl Stanley and Kenneth Murrow for president of Student Council, and made their choice of the class officers. A week later, 82 per cent of those registered selected their officers and representatives. Carl Stanley overcame a primary handicap of 746 to 686 to win the school's highest elective office.

The total results of the general election were strangely balanced—10 girls and 11 boys. All of the class presidents and vice-presidents were boys, all of the secretary-treasurers and chairmen of the social committees were girls, and the Student Council representatives in each class were one boy and one girl. Likewise, Byron Carlson and Betty Down were chosen election commissioner and deputy commissioner, respectively. Bob Reynolds won over Hart Spiegel in the hotly contested race for presidency of the senior class. The junior class elected Kenneth Lewis as their president, and the sophomores, Tom Lillard.

High-ranking students were chosen from constitution classes to serve on the election board. Honor T points were awarded for this work to 10 boys and 11 girls. The foods classes served lunch to the board.

As a whole, the election was as efficiently managed as any community could desire. Its success was due mainly to the work of Frank Montgomery, election commissioner; Nancy Neiswanger, deputy commissioner; Miss Grace Wolcott, Miss Amy Swenson, and J. H. Hoehner, faculty election committee; and Miss Robena Pringle, chairman.

Upon the return from the National Journalism convention at Milwaukee, co-editor Janney Walker left the scene of action and set forth on a voyage to see the world.

Real romance came when the big camera leaked and the rubber cement got hard, when the printer yelled for more copy and the cuts wouldn't fit.

World Work Makes Contented Publicists

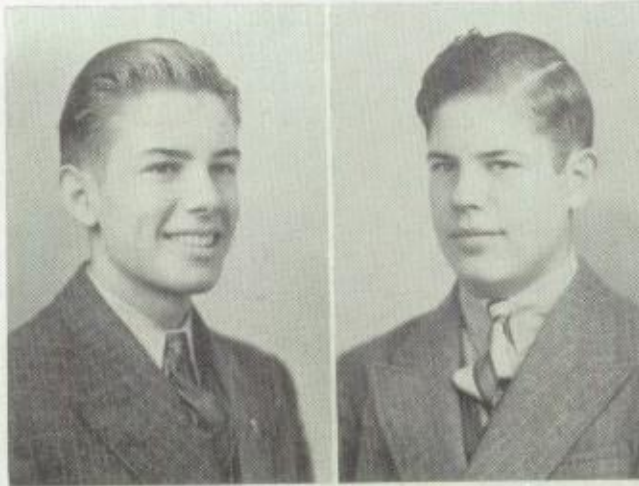

Staff Finds Job of Financing
"New Show" Too Costly
Proposition

"The show is going to be different tonight, Graham!"

With this attitude the fall staff rushed in to remake the World — to publish something entirely different. After several weeks spent in an effort to change the scenery, all concerned came to the conclusion that, unless some rich uncle was discovered, such 'goings on' should come to an abrupt end. This change brought about a retardation in the flow of bills, and once more the business staff saw the pink of dawn and it was a happy situation all around.

and dozens of hours of work behind each peaceful four-page issue of The World. Yet no one considered it work; everyone was having a swell time. Then one sunny October day along came the Kansas Interscholastic Press association convention at Lawrence. Early Friday morning the happy warriors set out for the conference. Twenty minutes later a major portion of the publications department in the vicinity of Perry was laboring on the Assistant Ed's flat tire. Encountering few other major difficulties, all deemed the visitation highly successful. We all enjoyed meeting Professor Flint, head of the Kansas University Journalism Department, who officiated as general host and helped us make the most of the conference. We found the student round table conferences especially helpful, where we could argue with fellow editors and exchange new tips on editing and management.

Take in National

Before this excitement had worn off we were again set on our ears by the announcement that the following week we would drive to Milwaukee in a one-day-old Lafayette and take in the National convention. Needless to say this was an epochal trip—driving the new car — lodging in a luxurious 24-story hotel — seeing and hearing world-famous journalists and getting acquainted with the city. Although none of the THS delegation rated a key to the city, all were entertained most royally.

Once home again, the staff devoted itself to applying the knowledge gathered on the trips abroad. The All-American Honor rating that came late in the spring proves that members had learned enough to uphold the World's standard.

Staffs Have "Swell" Times on 1936 World

Various Issues Twice Boast
Of Streamers as Paper
Sets Precedent

For some time it has been traditional that spring Worlds must appear when scheduled. Just to keep from being different, the staff of the spring World sent a paper to press regularly and had a swell time doing it.

Experimentation was in vogue for a while, and the World did something never before accomplished in a previous issue. Twice, once for W. N. A. Slick and the debaters and again in honor of the state basketball tournament which was to be held in Topeka, the World boasted streamers on the front page. Then the silly fool issue in "six delicious columns" startled its readers.

OTHER PUBLICATIONS

by Margaret Peterson

THE short story class joined with the creative writing class this spring to publish the Scribbler, for the first time a magazine representative of the entire English department.

Editors of the publication are Betty Carswell and Charles Baer. Dick Kunish and James Nelson, Jr., are the business managers. Associate editors include Helen Jane Belcher, Roderick Burton, Nancy Howell, Maxine McCall, Jean Miley, Margaret Peterson, and Harriet Stephens. Don Clinger and Everett Haskell are associate business managers. Art editors are Clara Smithmeyer and Henrietta Sheppard. The typists are Mary Fisher, Helen Hawes, Betty Hawkins, and Jean Smart.

Underclassmen outstanding in literary work and as salesmen were given honorary positions on the staff. The following were chosen: literary—James Cook and Starr Howell; business—Robert Gentry and Jack Yocum; art—Roland MacDonald.

Miss Nellie Ansel's fall rhetoric class published the Rhetogram as a record of its work in the course. The staff members of this publication were: editor—Luther Barrett; assistant editor—Howard Stephens; artist—Virginia Nitch; feature writers—Delbert Byler, Carter Butler, Omar Jones, John Shuart, Hart Spiegel, and Virginia Nitch; typists

IN recognition for creditable work done in activities in which school credit is not given, Honor T's are awarded to students earning 12 points in at least two of the three fields of activities, social, academic, and athletic.

Points are awarded for grades, attendance and punctuality, offices in clubs, positions on school publications, service on student government systems, and in school athletics.

Each year points earned by students during that year are compiled by the secretary of the Point System and her assistant. During the past year, Ethel May Schober has served as secretary, and Julia Menninger has served as her assistant.

Points for service have been worked out by the Student Council, which acts upon the recommendations made by activity sponsors. Changes in points can be made only through the Council.

"Honor T" certificates are given out in the honors assembly which is held in the last week before final examinations. "Honorable Mention" rewards those who make fewer than 12 points and at least 10. Names of these students are read at the assembly.

"High point man" last year was Edward Stevens with 25½ points. Betty Anderson, with 21, had the highest number of points made by a girl. Point awards for 1935-36 will not be announced until after this book has been issued.

THE TUTOR SYSTEM

In accordance with the purpose of the Tutor System, student tutors have aided students who had difficulty in keeping up to class standards or were backward in getting started in class work.

Tutor cards were used by Miss Grace Wolcott, chairman of the tutor committee, to keep a careful record of the work accomplished by the tutor and student.

It is considered one of the highest honors a teacher can pay a student to ask him to be a tutor, and students who are selected are awarded credit toward an Honor T.

Topeka High's development of the Tutor System has attracted much attention, and letters of inquiry have been received from many parts of the United States. It has been in vogue in the school for three years.

J. Edmond Mayer's debaters this year lived up to what Topeka High School expected of them. After the record set by last year's team, the Trojan body expected the state championship, at least. And they got it. For the third successive year, the state championship trophy was brought home.

This year's debaters started the season auspiciously by bringing home the Pittsburg open tournament cup, three Topeka teams having tied for first there. At the Winfield invitational, they repeated last year's victory in the finals. The Coffeyville open fell before the Trojans for the fourth successive time, with Topeka debating Topeka in the finals. Last year's second at Emporia was converted into a first, with two Topeka teams emerging undefeated from the tournament. On a trip to Fremont, Nebraska, both Topeka entries went out in the semi-finals.

Returning to Kansas, the team hit its stride again, a four-man team being organized that won 21 out of 22 debates to annex titles at the Eastern Kansas Conference meet at Topeka, the District tourney at Topeka, and the State League meet at Lawrence. At Fulton, Mo., Topeka was in the finals of two tournaments the same afternoon. At a tournament for girls, Topeka placed second; a boys' tourney netted a first. Another tournament at Lexington, Mo., was also won by Topeka.

The credit for this record goes to six seniors—Mary Ann Porterfield, Betty Warren, Corrine Hobbs, Hart Spiegel, Clifton Stratton, and Willard Van Slyck, Jr. "Clif" and Hart, the leading Trojan team, won 56 out of 60 debates prior to the National tournament. Mary Ann, who also was a member of last year's champions, has piled up a record of 64 wins and ten losses in her two years on the first team. Betty has been in 46 debates this year, 41 of them victories. Corrine has won 21 and lost three, and Willard has a record of 14 wins and three losses.

OTHER HONORS RECEIVED

Betty Warren won the state contest at Emporia in oratory. Corrine Hobbs placed second at the state contest in oratorical declamation, with Lorraine Barnett third in the same event. Marjorie Patterson took a second in the state in dramatic readings, while Mary Washburn placed third in the humorous division.

As a result of all these victories, Topeka entered the national tournament at Oklahoma City in May with an enviable record. Clif and Hart, both among the ten leading high school speakers of the country, entered as Topeka high's debate team; Mary Ann, likewise among the ten leaders, and last year's national champion in dramatic reading, chose oratorical declamation as her field of contest at the National. Betty entered her state-championship oration, while Corrine, Marjorie, and Mary competed in the same events as at the state.

While at the national tournament, Topeka was awarded the National Forensic League Award for Sustained Excellence in National Competition. This trophy is to be awarded annually to the school which has the best record for all the National tournaments, and was awarded this year for the first time.

N F L CHAPTER RANKS HIGH

Mary Ann Porterfield has served as president of the National Forensic League's local chapter during the past year, assisted by Hart Spiegel as secretary. The Topeka chapter has been the first ranking chapter of Kansas during this period, and J. Edmond Mayer has served as District NFL chairman for Kansas. Some fifteen Trojans are members, and ten of these have earned the degree of Distinction, the highest award which a high school student can earn in the NFL Degrees of Distinction have been granted to Mary Ann, Hart, Clif, Betty, Corrine, Lorraine, Margaret Shroyer, Leslie Thompson, Elsie Mae Swecker, and Ruth Spencer.

In accordance with a policy of giving every student a chance to air his talents, intramural contests have been held in every forensic event during the past year, and intramural champions crowned. Jeanne Wedell and Mary Lou Sweet won the intramural debate tournament in the spring, defeating Eldon Harris and Howard Rankin in the finals. Harald Wisegarver won the intramural contest in original oratory; Lorraine Barnett placed first in oratorical declamation. Marjorie Patterson emerged first in dramatic reading, while Junior McMahill won his second championship in humorous reading. The extemporaneous speaking contest was won by Willard Van Slyck, Jr.

LIFE size portrait of a self-made man—that was “Big Hearted Herbert.” No fold-erols for him; he was a plain man, and what was good enough for his fathers was sufficient for him. That applied to the enforcement of rigid economy, and cuspidors to have around handy, too. His rantings and ravings continued for a time; then his long enduring family revolted.

It wasn't a family that one would choose to combat with. Alice, the love stricken daughter, and Elizabeth, Herbert's wife, were not to be treated slightly. There were also the sons, Junior and Robert. A deluge of visitors to the Kalness home completed the not exactly happy family scenes. But taken all together, consequent hilarious events made the junior play highly successful.

“THE Royal Family,” presented by the Masque and Wig and Junior dramatic clubs is said to be a satire on the private life of the Barrymore family, although the authors, George Kauffman and Edna Ferber, deny this.

The complicated life and confusion of the famous Cavendish family is brought out in the opening scene by the constant ringing of the doorbells and telephones.

Howard Stephens played the dashing, irresponsible Tony who deserted the stage for the screen but soon returned, pursued by process-servers and reporters. Mary Washburn was the dominant, 72 year old mother who was planning to return to the stage but could never do this because of a weak heart.

America's foremost actress, Julie Cavenish, was portrayed by Jayne Reames, upon whose shoulders the entire family dumped their troubles and worries. The love affair between her and Gil Marshall was suddenly broken off when they both realized that they lived different lives and could never be happily married.

The business manager and financial aid of the family was excellently portrayed by Jack Dalby, who cultivated a German accent for the part.

Love interest in the play was carried successfully by Francis Ball and Jean Pugh.

It was hard at first to realize Bill Shipley as the middle-aged, ambitious actor, trying to find a producer for his new masterpiece, but as the play got under way we saw a new and different Bill.

STRANGERS coming all hours of the night to a country home two miles from anywhere! Window panes smashed—sliding panels—terrifying screams—mysterious murders—threatening notes—shivery rappings—blinking lights! Once more the seniors have scored in a mystery play—this time "The Bat," which drew a good crowd.

Why does Cornelia put up a strange man for the night? Does the Ouija board really tell the truth? Why do the house servants leave so suddenly?

There are many leads for the audience to follow before the mystery is solved. The audience gets plenty of thrills and chills, but also plenty of hilarious comedy.

"The Bat" was written by Mary Roberts Rinehart and Avery Hopwood. The play has been successful since its first production.

The cast was made up of new actors.

Characters: Betty Carswell, Jean Nelson, Kenneth Murrow, Bob Moore, Charlotte Duston, Francis Ball, Bill Shipley, Bob Reynolds, James Nelson, and Lincoln Van Camp.

SYMPHONY AND

by Marion Crenshall

Sarah Moller

AGAIN forsaking contests to venture into the field of grand opera, the 100-piece symphony orchestra, complete in instrumentation, is in many respects superior to the previous orchestras which have made enviable records in the contests they have attended. Martin Burton, well-known Topeka music critic and formerly of the faculty of the College of Emporia fine arts department, said of the orchestra, "One immediately is aware of the melody and the spirit of the music that David T. Lawson, director, succeeds in communicating to the orchestra, which in turn transmits it to the audience."

Sixty players in the orchestra were chosen to assist in the production of the fall revue "Say It with Music" and the opera "Il Trovatore." In the playing of the difficult opera scores, the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Lawson and LaVerne Hackler, have assisted at the various dramatic clubs productions, and other programs.

This year the orchestra gave a demonstration at the Mid-West Band Festival at Lawrence, where they played before such conductors as Edwin Franko Goldman, conductor of Goldman's Band, and Harold Backman, of Backman's Million Dollar Band. At the State Music Contest at Emporia Jack Dalby and Jean Klussman, members of the orchestra, won "highly superior" ratings in solo events.

Mr. Lawson believes that one of the greatest benefits to be derived from the music department is the participation in solo work and small ensemble groups. Most of the ranking players in each section are in one or more organized trios, quartettes, and other small ensembles.

Although many of the first chair players are graduating this year and will be missed, due to the organization of the central junior high school orchestra, composed of the finest players in all the junior highs, and the sight-reading orchestra, the symphony orchestra for next year is furnished with trained musicians to fill their places.

CHORUSES SHARE TRIUMPHS

by LaVerne Hackler

CAPABLE of singing any type of music, from staid church hymns to the modern sophisticated music of today, the choruses have proved their ability at the many programs they have presented.

The boys' chorus, under the direction of Kenneth H. Meyers, has been featured on many programs and its faultless harmony and singing style have never failed to impress its audiences.

Under the leadership of Miss Irene De Mun, whose first year in Topeka High School has been one of marked success with both students and audiences, the girls' chorus has time and again displayed its ability to fill a spot on any program with appropriate music.

The choruses were a big feature of the opera, and "Il Trovatore" was most creditable.

In the "Plantation Scene," the "Spanish Scene," and the "Indian Scene," of the fall revue, "Say It With Music," the choruses, dressed in colorful costumes, contributed much toward its success.

The a cappella choir, garbed in new rust-colored choir robes, has shown what it is selected singers. An a cappella chorus of sixteen voices, newly organized this year, has sung for many programs about the city.

Top: BOYS' CHORUS—Center: GIRLS' CHORUS—Bottom: A CAPPELLA

MIXED CHORUS AND

by LaVerne Hackler

WITH the high quality work of the boys' chorus, directed by Kenneth H. Meyers, and the girls' chorus, directed by Miss Irene De Mun, blended into the building of the mixed chorus, this organization has become one of the most outstanding in the music department. The chorus totals nearly 400 voices.

At the annual Easter assembly in the Topeka High School auditorium, the mixed chorus, with its costumes forming a solid mass of black and white, was an inspiring sight. The musicianship of the singers was shown to advantage in the singing of the religious music appropriate for such an occasion. On this program solos were sung by Bill Duncan, Phil Crow, Harry Adams, and Bertna Jo More. A vesper by the chorus was planned for May 10, but postponed because of conflicting engagements.

The mixed chorus is a regular part of vocal work, and one afternoon a week is devoted to rehearsal, with both chorus directors alternately taking the baton. As in the instrumental department, much stress is placed on solo and small ensemble work, so that the chorus includes many fine soloists and ensembles. Several groups have done noteworthy work. Miss De Mun says of the ensembles, "The tone quality of these small groups is unusually lovely, and they have been well received at the many functions for which they have sung."

At the State Music Contest at Emporia this spring the entire vocal department particularly distinguished themselves. The boys' chorus was awarded an "excellent rating and the girls' chorus won a "highly superior," the highest ratings given in their divisions. Students who won high ratings were Larrie Clark, "superior;" Charles Lane, "excellent;" and LaVon Loo, "excellent." The mixed chorus and the small A Cappella also rated "excellent."

"IL TROVATORE" INTERESTS MANY

by LaVerne Hackler

WITH marked success in previous performances of grand opera, the Topeka High School music department again scored a hit with its presentation of the opera "Il Trovatore" February 18, with the assistance of the Chicago Festival Opera company.

In the last two years the performances of "Faust" and "Aida" met with such favor with Topeka audiences that the music department repeated the project this year.

Gypsies, helmeted soldiers, and rich music in a colorful setting characterized the opera, with more than 150 students furnishing the background of color and sound harmony for the professional singers, and a 60-piece selected orchestra accompanying in noteworthy manner.

The scene of "Il Trovatore" is laid in Biscay and Arragon in the early 1400's. Witches, gypsies, troubadors, and beautiful maidens are cleverly woven into the complex plot of the most beloved of Verdi's operas.

Clarence E. Cramer, manager of the Chicago Festival Opera company, brought to Topeka well-known figures in the operatic world to sing the leading roles. Included were Barbara Darlys, returning this year for the second time, singing the heroine's part Leonora; Azucena, the old wandering gypsy hag, was sung by Sonia Sharnova, recognized as one of the finest dramatic actresses and singers on the stage today; the part of the Manrico, a young noble chieftian, and the hero of the story, was sung by Elbert Wheeler; Count di Luna, a powerful young noble of Arragon, and Ferrando, a captain of the guard, were sung by Will Blailock and Robert Bateman respectively.

Kenneth H. Meyers and Miss Irene De Mun directed the choruses, and David T. Lawson the orchestra. Corinne Lamborn, Larrie Clark, Jack Robertson, and Jean Boyle had outstanding parts among the students. Student assistants for the production were Corrine Hobbs, Harriet Stephens, LaVerne Hackler, Bruce Woolpert, Sam Hepworth, and Josephine Taggart.

This year for the first time the music department presented a popular music revue "Say It With Music," using well-known popular music through-out. Tap dancers, adagio teams, mammy and blues singers were all included in the first edition of the "Topeka High School Revue of 1935."

BAND LENDS SERVICE

by Bob Beeler

THE Topeka High band is "a service institution." During the fall term the band was present at the football games, with snappy pep songs and maneuvers on the gridiron. It made a new hit with "Where Has My Little Dog Gone" and similar ditties. In their black and white uniforms with the gold lyre, the band always made a hit wherever it appeared.

Throughout the basketball season the band helped the pep clubs while away dull moments between quarters and halves. The entire band attended all the main round games at the state basketball tournament.

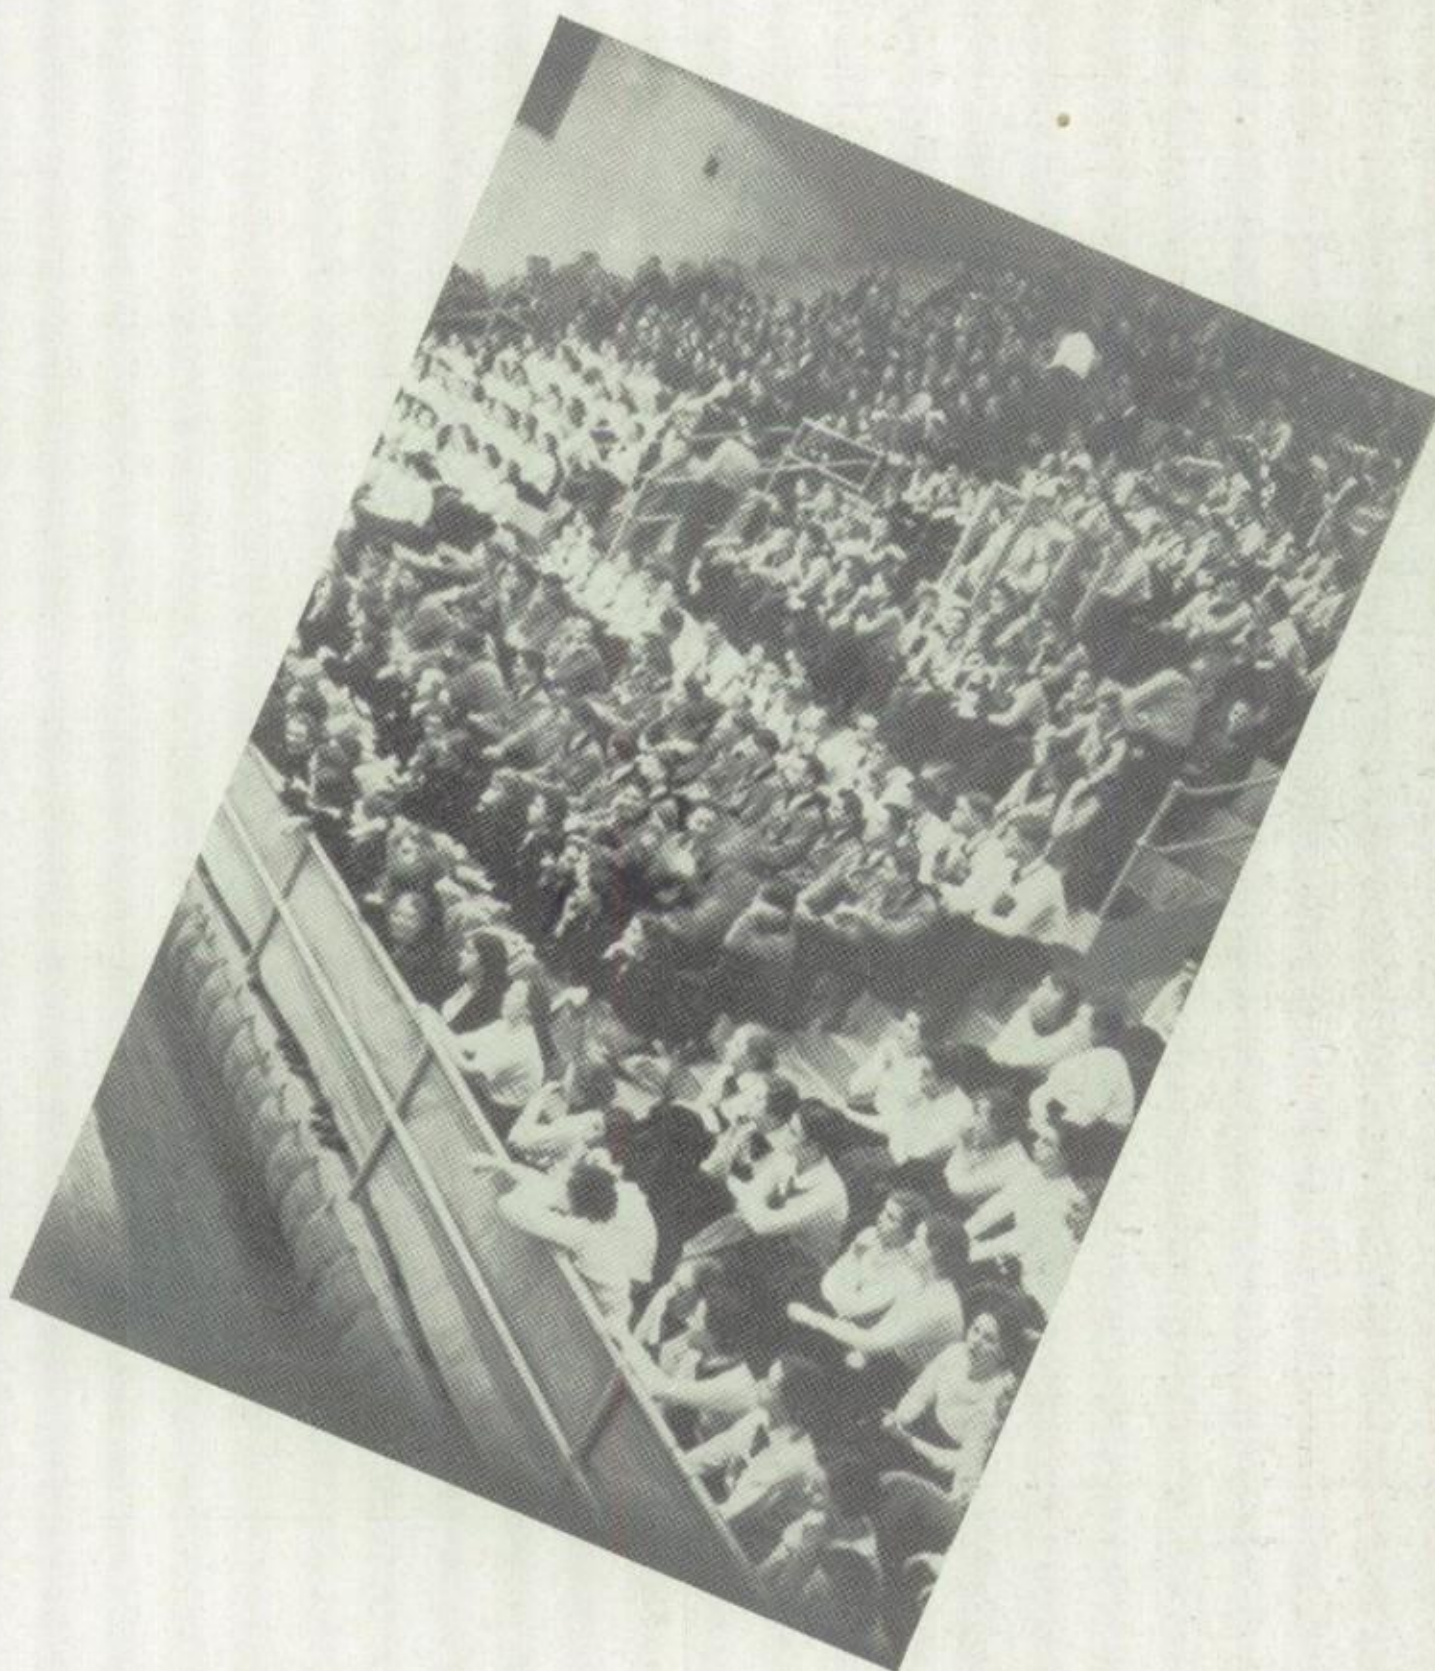

Several assembly programs of the past years have been by these musicians or with their help. The band attended the Mid-West Band Festival at Lawrence last year and again this year. Last year they entered the competition for class A bands and brought home a Second division rating.

This contest was judged by Edwin Franko Goldman, director of Goldman's band, Harold Bachman, director of Bachman's Million-Dollar Band, and Herbert L. Clarke, director of the Long Beach band.

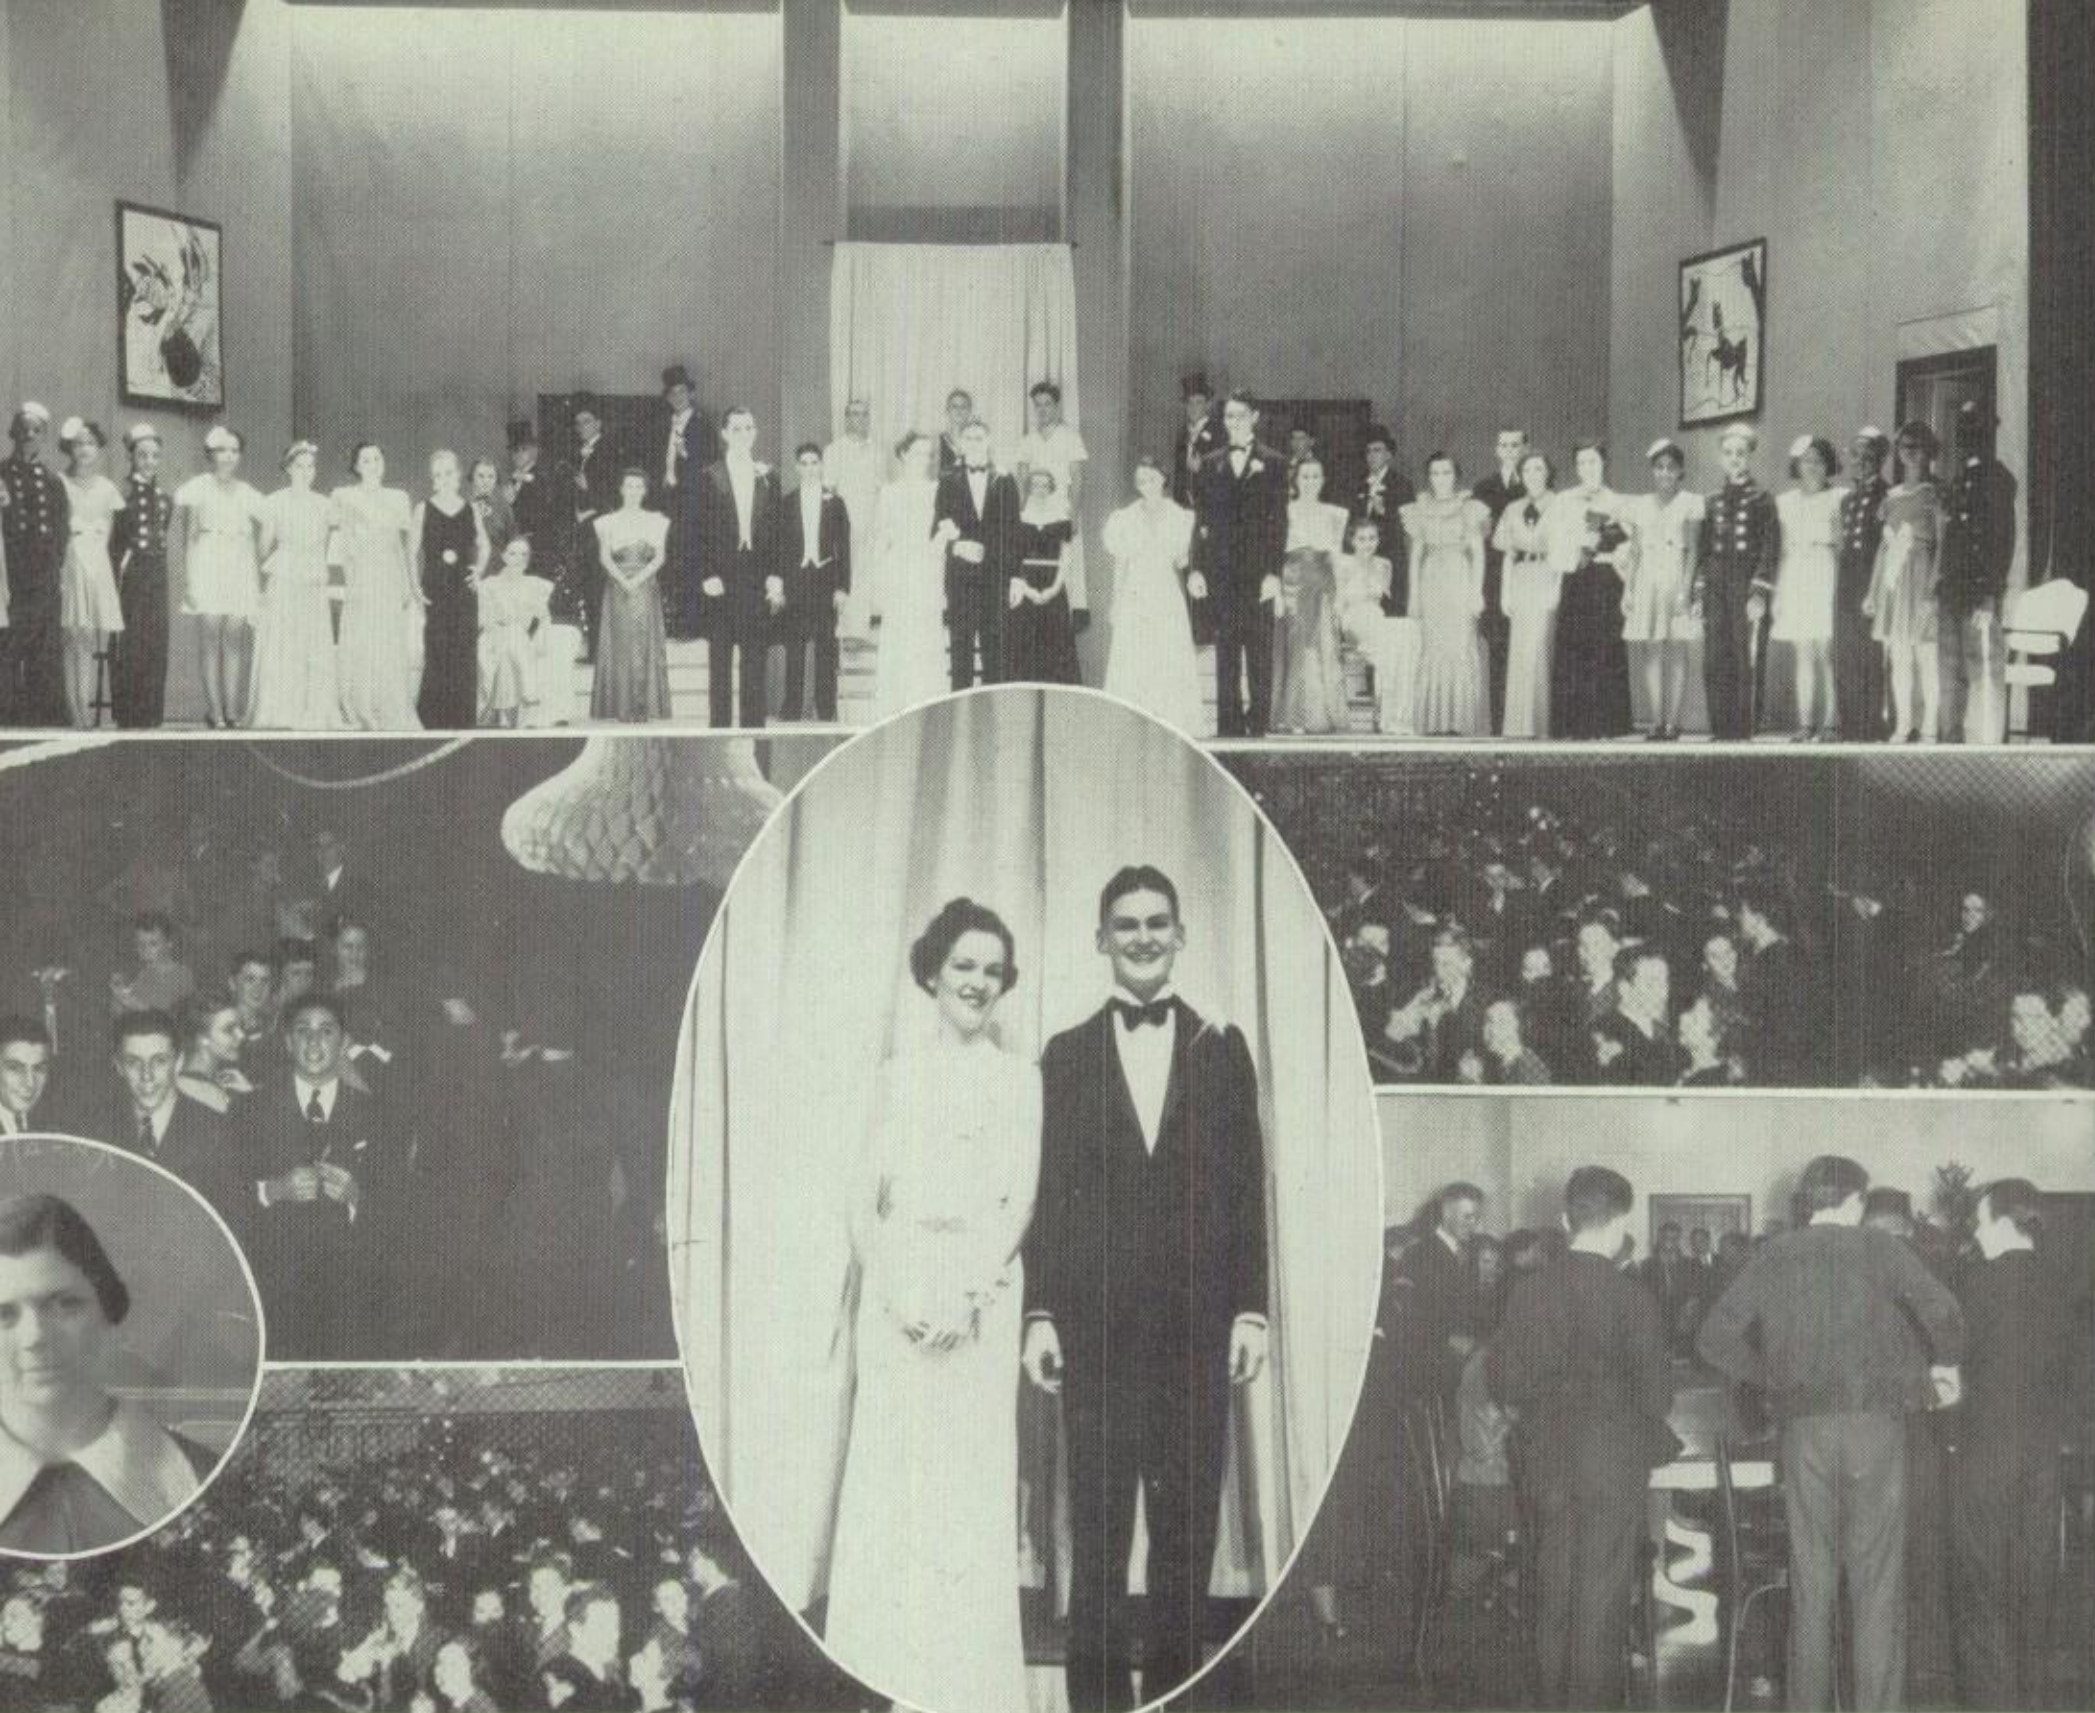

Twenty members of the band were chosen to play in the massed band, a big feature of the festival, and had the opportunity of playing under the baton of these famous band men.

The band's repertoire is not by any means limited to marches and pep songs. This year has seen the performance of several difficult overtures and rhapsodies on their band programs, with more modern and lighter compositions. Of the 130 players who constitute the band approximately 20 more advanced are selected for orchestra work along with the regular band schedule.

A player in Topeka high's band is a real musician, with practical experience in the classics, modern music and all-around band procedure.

SOCIAL ACTIVITIES

ALL SCHOOL PARTY

by Margaret Peterson

The finale of the All-School Party program (top) made a glittering array of brass buttons and top hats. Also note the high-stepping horses in background and Mary "Poker Face" Washburn in foreground. Immediately after the program, dancers flocked to the cafeteria (left and right center) and tripped, pushed and perspired 'neath merry Christmas bells. What would we have done without Mrs. Kingman (lower left), the good angel of the whole jamboree! And (center) Kenny and Juanita display royal smiles. One of the many (and yearly) sideshow attractions was Bingo (lower right). (Page 107) Stephens does his part in encouraging the cozy little social gatherings (upper left). Another king and queen (upper center), Curtis and Henrietta. Geisha girls, parasols, and cherry blossoms (upper right) constituted a much-patronized sideshow. (Left center) a patient but hungry assemblage of merry-makers await their dole of ice cream. Miss Hosmer, with the assistance of Kate Smith (alias Marvel Bidwell) instructs the quintuplets (right center). "I'm stepping out tonight to breathe an atmosphere that fairly reeks with class."

ON the night of December 6, 8:15 o'clock—a penthouse high up above the city; the bachelor tenant entertaining his friends, swanky evening dressed young moderns gathered for an evening of gay entertainment; a hot rhythm orchestra; dancing girls—the setting for the All-School Party program.

Modernity was the keynote, making it an exceptional party, one to be remembered long after the details of other less outstanding events of our school days have become dim and are hidden away in cobwebby corners of our minds.

Who can easily forget Virginia Wallack's torrid torch singing, or Sarah Beth King's reproachful "That's What You Think," or Louise Schoonover and Charles Baer in their accordion duet, or—but we could go on and on! Mainly, who can soon forget that breathless moment when Frank Kenyon, the host of the penthouse party, unveiled his priceless old painting of a King and Queen—and out stepped our own Kenny Murrow and Juanita Dick!

After the program in the auditorium we all wandered around the halls, stopping here and there—to visit Mrs. Jarley's Wax Museum, to have our fortunes told by a gaily dressed gypsy, to play Bingo in the teachers' cafeteria, to enjoy a game of ping pong, or, perhaps, to inspect an old fashioned music hall or Ye Olde Print Shoppe Picture Company.

Then we found ourselves in the cafeteria, dancing to Charlie Atwell's orchestra. About 10:30 the Pie Delta Pie girls served refreshing red and green ice cream. Another interval of dancing brought to a close the hilarity and fun of the 1935 All-School Party.

THE night of March 27, 8:15 o'clock, the juniors gave a party for the seniors. And what a party it was! Grand program, good orchestra, a "swell" crowd, and a general good time.

To begin with, some bright, public spirited person had the inspiration to suggest giving the program in the auditorium rather than on the dance floor as has been done in previous years—the object being to give everyone equal chance to see.

On arriving at what we suspected might be a dignified, formal party, we were met with a hilarious circus—a real one with barkers, trained horses, snake charmers, acrobats, clowns, animal trainers—with all the trimmings.

It would be impossible to name all the "exceptionally good" acts on the program. If we started, we're afraid it would turn out to be an unending task. However, we can't pass up the program without mentioning the wrestling match of the two wild men, Tom Lillard and B. J. Armentrout; Mary Campbell's "I Love to Ride the 'Orses;" Royce Adele Palmer's surprise doll house; the clever dog dance arranged by June Crook; Dana Roehrig's hot dog stand; and the trained horse. Miss Ruth Grandon, junior class sponsor, did a great job as director.

Leaving the circus, we all went into the cafeteria to enjoy the "danceable" music of "Brownie" Brown and his orchestra. For relief of fast-steppers, the Pie Delta Pie girls served cooling refreshments.

As usual, while getting our wraps, we all declared this party was absolutely the best yet. (Query—what will Proms be like five years from now if they keep on getting better the way they seem to do?)

At the Prom we were transplanted to a hilarious circus, with side show acts, trained animals, and hot dog stands. Mary Campbell, dare-devil rider, leads her chorus in "I Love to Ride the 'Orses" (lower left). Sailors invaded the circus to tell us "We Saw the Sea" (lower center). Royce Adele Palmer, a life-size doll, surprised us by dancing out of a miniature house (lower right).

The town's municipal band welcomed the circus (Opposite page, upper left). The ring master brought out all his performers (upper center). Gymnastic enthusiasts made a living pyramid (upper right). A lovely dancing chorus sings "A Beautiful Lady in Blue." Floy Hill was the lady (left insert). Entered the lady herself (right insert). "Say your prayers, you're in my clutches," Lillard warned Armentrout (lower left). Then to the cafeteria to do some performing of our own (lower center). "Will you partake of roasted canine?" advertised Malcolm (lower right).

GIRL RESERVES

by Nancy Howell

A Little Sister party started off Girl Reserve work this year, making incoming sophomores girls acquainted with the school and other students. Another Little Sister party was held at the beginning of the spring term.

Fifty girls served on the Big Cabinet each term. Nine Girl Reserve officers composed the Little Cabinet.

The city-wide Girl Reserve Christmas banquet and the Palm Sunday Service were the main events for Girl Reserves.

Girl Reserves and Hi-Y jointly had charge of the three devotional assemblies planned by the Conference committee.

The Service committee's big job was taking charge of the Lost and Found all year.

HI-Y and BOOKER T

by Harold Wisegarver

THE Hi-Y under the sponsorship of Sol D. Dice has a membership estimated at 60.

The entire school co-operates at Christmas to fill baskets for needy families, but it is the Hi-Y's duty to distribute them to the selected families.

For the past six years the Hi-Y has successfully managed the book exchange at the beginning of each semester.

Once a month, with the Girl Reserves, the Hi-Y presents a devotional assembly for the student body.

The Hi-Y state conference was held in Topeka last fall. Topeka sent a large delegation to the district meeting at Holton this year.

In the summer, when studies are put aside, a group always attends the session of Camp Wood.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

A banquet in Mexican setting, a party celebrating the founding of Rome, a tea for French students and their guests—these were high lights of the year for foreign language classes of the school. In addition, the advanced Latin pupils provided gifts for Mexican children at Christmas, and members of the Spanish-speaking countries in an activity period to which all other students were invited.

Pupils taking German studied German home life and became familiar with old-world customs.

FRENCH CLUB (Le Cercle Francais) OFFICERS—President, Charlotte Land; Vice-President, Phil Brink; Secretary-Treasurer, Margaret Peterson; Chairman Social Committee, Mary Campbell; Chairman Program Committee, Beth Fuller.

DRAMATIC CLUBS

THE three dramatic clubs, Sophomore, Junior, and Masque and Wig, have contributed much to this year's entertainment. They have presented one play and the Christmas pageant. "The Royal Family" was the Masque and Wig play presented by the combined dramatic clubs.

Each year the Junior dramatic club has charge of the Christmas assembly, this year a pageant of the old English Yuletide.

At the regular meetings of the individual clubs, one-act plays are given. Three times this year the clubs had joint meetings.

MASQUE AND WIG—First row—Thacher, Kauffman, Peterson, Reames, Floyd, Duston, Reynolds, Dick, Shipley, Armstrong, Rightmire, Vaughn, Wellman, Villee, Walrafen, King, Dargitz, Kunish, Harper, Norton.
